For service above and beyond ...

Dedication

For their combined total of 68 years of teaching service to Ottawa High School, the 1963 edition of The Senior is dedicated to Miss Marguerite Laugman and Mr. Harold Zuege. Miss Laugman and Mr. Zuege retired from teaching last June.

Both gave unendingly of their time to serve Ottawa High. Their students were their primary concern. Encouraging the successful to strive for higher goals, helping the struggling students to achieve success — these faithful public servants and gracious individuals lived the Chaucerian tradition: "And gladly would he teach and gladly learn."

Miss Laugman, who began her teaching career at OHS in 1941, taught history and English. She received her bachelor of arts degree from St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., and her masters degree from the University of Southern California.

Mr. Zuege came to Ottawa High in 1925, and served as manual training and mechanical drawing teacher, coach and ticket manager. Holder of a bachelor of science degree from Oshkosh, Wis., Teachers College, Mr. Zuege also was head of the industrial arts department and was class adviser several times.

MISS LAUGMAN, who retired last year from OHS faculty, expectantly opens gift at June retirement dinner. Others at table are Board President A. LaClair Perkins, Mrs. Perkins, and Mr. Glenn Grever, chairman of the English department.

MR. ZUEGE accepts retirement gift presented by OHS staff from Mr. Merle Burke, as Mrs. Zuege watches. Mr. Zuege, who came to Ottawa High in 1925, retired last June from his post as industrial arts department chairman and drawing teacher.

May we explain . . .

Always, a part of man's searching has been the desire to bridge the gap from the known to the unknown, from the familiar to the strange, from this moment to tomorrow — and to the many tomorrows that follow.

For the Class of 1963, the four years at Ottawa High have been part of that quest. Together, and in association with less experienced travelers, the seniors have journeyed part of the Highway of Success. Now the journey takes on new twists and curves. The route becomes more varied — as diverse as the goals of the travelers.

During the seniors' four years at OHS, Interstate 80 became a reality. Ottawa moved, in a sense,

Your guide through these pages . . .

closer to the rest of the world. In that same span of time, plans for a second bridge for Ottawa did not become spans of steel. So, too, is it with our journey through life. Parts are as real as the concrete of Route 80. Others are, as yet, as uncertain as the bridge builder's dream.

This yearbook is a record of part of the journey — our travels — toward success on the Road of Life.

Organizations

Thomas, Loebach Direct CC Sessions

Randy Thomas and Dave Loebach, as presidents, directed Civic Council activities. Each served for one semester.

Council members began the year by directing fall club registration. Homecoming activities, tuberculin tests, Christmas decorating, Carl Sandburg Penny Week and the annual charity fund drive completed first semester activities. The charity drive brought in $258.88 as freshmen led contributions with $72.89.

About a half ton of clothes made the clothing drive for the Save the Children Federation one of the largest held. Led by homeroom 901, the freshmen topped the other classes with 686 pounds of clothing.

The second-semester council also organized Student Government Day May 2. Two members — Farley Andrews and Connie Wagner — attended the April Illinois Assn. of Student Councils convention.

Junior and Senior Share Editorship of 'Buccaneer'

Heading the staff of The Buccaneer for the 1962-63 year were senior Pat Lynott and junior Martha Christoff. Martha was the second junior in OHS history to hold this post.

Buc staffers published 16 issues during the year, including a special April Fool's edition and an eight-page edition in May carrying both regular news and creative writing.

In national critical evaluation, The Buccaneer garnered an "A" rating from the National Newspaper Service and a "first class" mark from the National Scholastic Press Assn. Both ratings were for papers published first semester.

Norma Hoke and Betts Secor Manage

Co-editors for the 1963 Senior were Norma Hoke and Betts Secor. Helping them in their work were Holly Ann Neufeld and Penny Johnson, assistant editors.

Meeting during A and B clubs and after school on Thursdays, the members decided on a cover design, a color for the cover and a thematic design for layouts.

Last fall five staff members attended the convention of the Illinois State High School Press Assn. In May another delegation journeyed to the Northern Illinois Press Assn. meeting at DeKalb.

NHS Recognizes Academic Achievement

Forty-eight seniors, directed by Miss Georgia Powell, composed the first active group of the S. Isabella Sanders Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Speakers providing interesting entertainment at the group meetings included Miss Cheryl Gustafson, Miss Gertrude Pfeil, Supt. MacRae Shannon, Mrs. Audrey Wheeler, Mr. Paul Gerding and Miss Mary LeMay.

Main objective of the National Honor Society is the promotion of scholarship, character, leadership and service.

On May 16, juniors who were eligible for membership were initiated into the honor society during an all-school assembly led by officers.

Speech Troupe Honors Players

Thespian Troupe 1140 sponsored a Western all-school assembly in October and the speech banquet in April honoring those students who have excelled in dramatics.

At a dinner meeting in February, the Thespians, under the direction of Mrs. Ben Rotter, speech teacher, initiated two honorary members — Mr. Paul W. Batty, debate coach, and Mr. Harry Adrian, English teacher assisting with dramatics.

Colorful Tableaux Augment Splendor Of Music Concerts

Colorful tableaux added to the impressive Christmas and Easter concerts this year. Nine different scenes were given.

The Christmas program opened with "Symbol of Manger." Speech students then presented "There Was No Room At The Inn." Other tableaux for Christmas were "Procession of Angels", "Adoration", and "Mary and Joseph".

Among the four Easter tableaux were "The Shepherd", "Betrayal in Gethsemane" and "Easter Morn". A depiction of Hebrews 13:20-21 was the last scene.

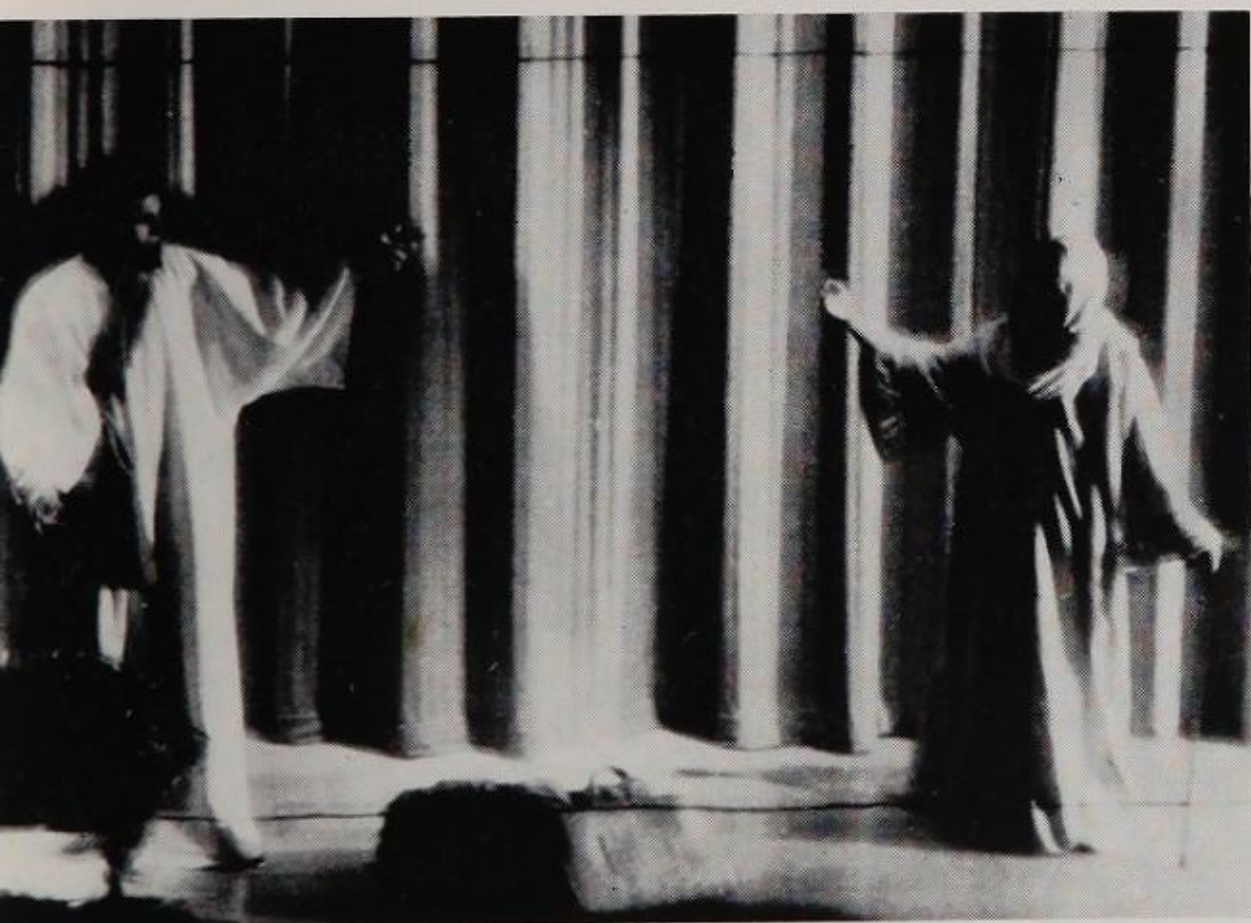

"PROCESSION of Angels", third of the Christmas tableaux, shows angels passing the Christ Child bearing an offering for the Babe of Bethlehem.

SENIORS Sue Alikonis, Diane Monterastelli and Jo Olson practice one of the tableaux presented by dramatics students to augment musical portion of concerts.

ONE of the tableaux presented with the annual Christmas concert shows Mary and Joseph, after being turned away at the Inn, finding room to stay in the stable.

CHRIST, The Good Shepherd, gathers little children about him in one of the scenes from Easter Concert.

Absent: Bruce Morey.

Band Activities as Varied as Seasons

From fall halftime football shows to June graduation, the OHS band was busy with a variety of activities. Although rain cancelled the Homecoming halftime show, the band performed with the Girls Drill Squad at three home grid games. Then 20 bandsmen played in the North Central Music Festival at Streator, Nov. 17.

In the fall magazine sales drive, the band sold $1,932.03 worth of subscriptions, with Brenda Robinson top salesman. Ottawa served as host for the county sight-reading clinic. For home basketball games the band divided into two groups — the Red and the White. Both played for the sectional tourney in March.

Jerry Makeever and Candy Purcell represented OHS in the Illinois Music Educators Assn. District Two meeting at DeKalb. Jerry then took part in the IMEA state meet. Joining with the choirs, the band presented the traditional Christmas concert Dec. 14, for OHS students, and Dec. 15, for the public. The seventh annual winter concert Feb. 21 highlighted the Hiwaymen and a cornet trio — Jerry Ma-

keever, Greg Totel and Dana DeVry.

Bandsmen competed for individual state honors Mar. 16, taking 37 first-place ratings (details, page 32), and for organizational honors April 20, when the music department won Class A Sweepstakes honors. Also, in April, the band performed during the 11th annual Easter concert, and a small group from the band played for the Jefferson School PTA.

May 9 the band recorded selections for a record to be sold later. May 24 the band presented its 31st annual spring concert. After marching in the Memorial Day parade, the band completed the year with its appearance at commencement June 7.

Band officers were Jerry Makeever, president; Candy Purcell, vice-president; Ann Louise Johnson, secretary; Ellen Lynch, treasurer. Class representatives were Greg Knutson, junior; Steve Miklavcic, sophomore; and Tom Makeever, freshman. Second band representatives were Jack Fitzgerald, upperclassmen, and Don Ninness, freshmen in fifth hour.

During its 11-day summer trip the OHS band played 12 concerts and had time for in-between fun and sightseeing. Making the trip were 77 instrumentalists, one French foreign exchange student and the chaperons — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Makeever and Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnison.

First two concert stops were at Muscatine and Ames, Ia. Then the band played five concerts in South Dakota—at Mobridge, Dell Rapids, Sturgis, Rapid City and Chamberlain. Next concerts were at Dickinson, N. D., Blair, Neb., and Mt. Pleasant, Ia. Final appearance was at the Illinois State Fair, Springfield.

Trip highlights were a tour and overnight stay at Iowa State University, obtaining a share of stock in the Broken Boot Gold Mining Company, visiting Mt. Rushmore and riding the Terry Peak chair lift.

Musicians Capture Seventh Sweepstakes

Back in Class A competition after one year in Class AA — as a result of the revision of class sizes based on enrollment, OHS instrumental and vocal music students took their seventh sweepstakes title with 240 points, far ahead of Normal with 72.

In the organizational section of the contest, the OHS band won — for the tenth consecutive year — superior ratings from the three contest judges and from the sight-reading judge. For the second straight year the choral groups — mixed choir, girls chorus and boys chorus — received superior ratings.

Three choir soloists, 15 bandsmen and 19 ensembles from band and choir took superior ratings. (Choir superior soloists are pictured on page 37; band soloists, page 29.) Choir superior ensembles were two girls' double ensembles, one mixed single ensemble, one mixed double ensemble, one boys' double ensembles and Madrigals.

Band superior ensembles were mixed woodwind trio, woodwind trio, B-flat clarinet trio, flute quartet, B-flat clarinet quartet, mixed clarinet quartet, saxophone quartet, baritone duet, French horn quartet, cornet quartet, trombone quartet, brass sextet, and drum quintet. The band and choir also won 12 excellent ratings and one good judgment from the critics.

Varying from formal sacred concerts with singers in traditional maroon robes to frolicking skating party and picnic with choir members in everything from shorts to "winter longies", the activities of the OHS choral groups were both work and fun.

Aside from the daily class sessions, activities began with the North Central Music Festival at Streator. Eight seniors — Kris Cechowicz, Jim Hanson, Larry Henrikson, Rita Krug, Pat Lynott, Ann Pearse, Linda Stelling and Carol Totel — took part in the All-State Music Activity District Two at DeKalb Dec. 1. Then Jim and Larry participated in the state-wide festival at Peoria Jan. 25-26.

Choir members sold $1,322.51 worth of subscriptions for the music department magazine drive. Larry Henrikson sold $164.37 to lead the singing salesmen. Cheryl Juergensen sold $65.08. Rita Krug captained the high choir team, selling $381.52.

Three major concerts and several special appearances by the second-hour choir highlighted the vocal musicians' concert engagements, which also included singing at the Waltham drive-in Vespers service. (Concert details, page 38.) Functions of a less serious nature were the Christmas ice skating party, Dec. 27, and the annual June picnic.

STATE Superior soloists — Loyd Chapman (boy's medium voice), Judy Olson (girl's low voice) and Kay Carby (girl's low voice) — join in fun session in choir room.

Group met with Mr. Muus Wednesday after school.

Choirs Present Sacred, Special Concerts

Sacred concerts for Christmas and Easter — plus the Spring concert and a brief program for graduation exercises — highlighted the 1962-63 choral calendar. Theme for the Christmas program, featuring all the OHS choir units, was "Hear the Joyful News This Day". Director B. J. Muus selected "Lo, My Shepherd Is Divine" as the Easter concert theme. The Spring concert was presented Friday, May 31.

Second-hour choir joined with the grade school and the Central School choirs for the city-wide choral festival, Mar. 22. In addition to its own program, the OHS group joined with the others to sing "The

Ash Grove", the spiritual from "That Great Gettin' Up Mornin'," and "America, the Beautiful." The second-hour group also sang at Illinois Wesleyan University, the Northern Illinois University Festival April 27 and at a special May 12 concert in Harmon. (State contest details are given on page 32.)

Drill Units Please Grid, Cage Fans With Precise Steps

OHS drill teams highlighted the football and basketball seasons with appearances at home games in their precision halftime shows.

The Girls Drill Squad, under the supervision of Mr. Robert McKay, marched at three basketball games—Kewanee, Sterling, and the sectional tourney. Sue Kirkman and Roberta Hilliard were drillmasters. The girls combined with the marching band to perform for all home football games.

Directed by Nick Milosevich, the Boys Drill Squad marched at the Dixon and Princeton cage tilts. Bill Loeb and Roger Shearer were drillmasters.

Part of the OHS Cadet Corps, the Drill Squad also marched during the Military Review in May, presenting an exhibition but not vying for drill honors. Made up of students from the various platoons, the squad rehearsed weekly. Volunteering for membership, the students had to pass tryouts.

DRILL SQUAD member Sandy Sheridan directs one of the incoming freshmen and her mother during the annual Open House Mar. 26.

Poseidon Presents 'Antiquitus' May 2-3

With a Mt. Olympus setting of broken pillars, Poseidon Club members presented "Antiquitus", their symbolization of the gods and goddesses, May 2 and 3.

Under the direction of Miss Nancy Hoerger, the club practiced four nights a week to prepare the ten ballets.

TRIO members Betts Secor, Penny Johnson and Nicky Gerding "sleep" before beginning their ballet number in the production "Antiquitus", portraying the mythic gods and goddesses of ancient tales of Rome and Greece.

Poseidon officers were Nancy Rabenstein, president; Betts Secor, vice-president; Ann Hennessy, secretary; Joyce McHugh, treasurer; and Penny Johnson, scribe.

Sun and Moon — (senior ballet) — Nancy Rabenstein, Kay Rensch, Nicky Gerding, Sharon Himes, Lorna Holm, Penny Johnson, Joyce McHugh, Holly Ann Neufeld and Betts Secor.

Underworld — Ann Hennessy, Barb Grove, Gayanne DeVry, Loretta Holm, Sandy Hornbeck and Nancy Strow.

Rainbow — Kay Rensch, Karen Taggart, Penny Johnson and Joyce McHugh.

Magic — Barb Pearson, Phyllis Burns, Jane Beck, Sandy Hornbeck, Jane Love, Holly Ann Neufeld and Nancy Strow.

Sleep — (trio) — Nicky Gerding, Penny Johnson and Betts Secor.

Crime and War — Lorna Holm, Phyllis Burns, Jean Grot, Barb Grove, Loretta Holm, Joan Love, Karen Taggart and Kay Rensch.

Spring — Holly Ann Neufeld, Nancy Rabenstein, Gayanne DeVry and Ann Hennessy.

Love and Beauty — Betts Secor, Nicky Gerding, Jane Beck, Phyllis Burns and Sandy Hornbeck.

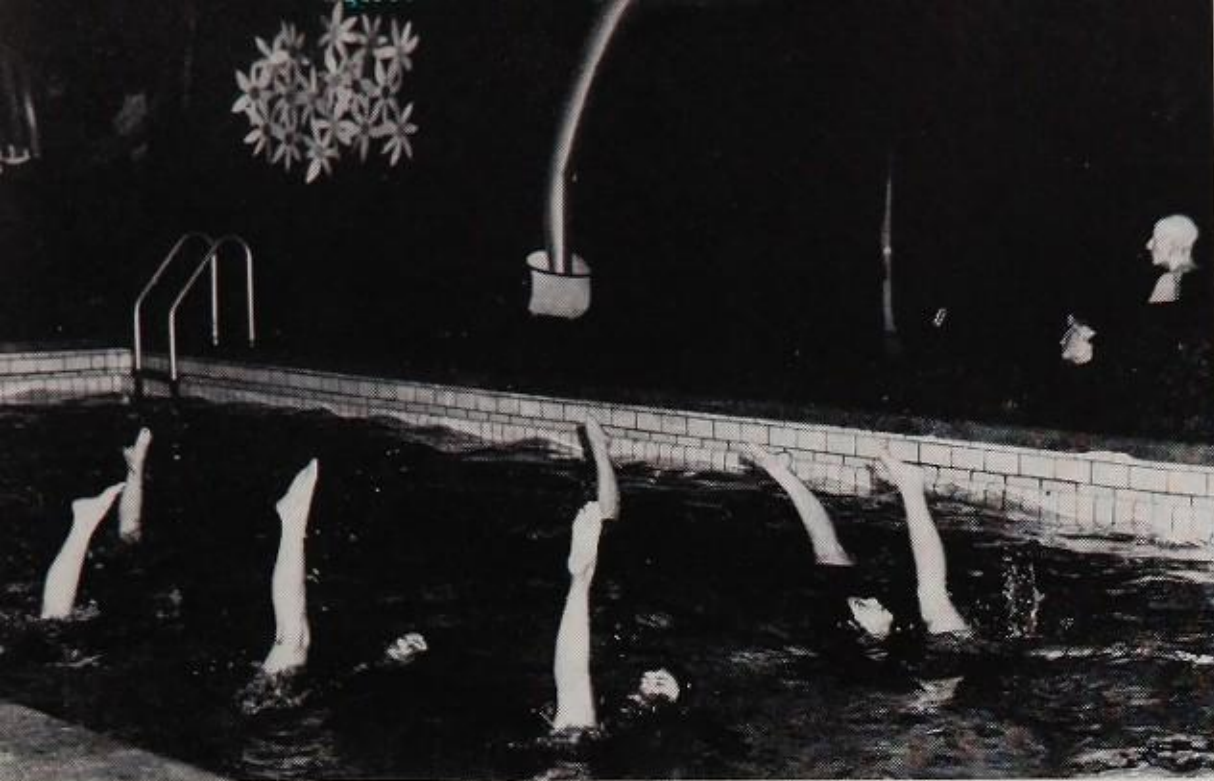

Heaven — Nancy Strow, Ann Hennessy, Barb Grove, Sharon Himes, Lorna Holm and Barb Pearson.

Fire — (duet) — Nancy Rabenstein and Kay Rensch.

Finale — Poseidon.

FHA, FFA Projects

WINNERS of club's "crazy hat" contest at the initiation are Marilyn Williams, Nancy Abernathy and Vicki Anderson.

TEENAGE values are considered during FHA Club meeting by panel: Miss Marguerite Laugman, Dixie Anderson, Nancy Abernathy, Miss Cheryl Gustafson and Steve Miklavcic.

FHA PROJECTS chairman Karen Allen, sixth from left, conducts installation of club officers. The 1962-63 officers were Nancy Abernathy, historian; Judy Stone, parliamentarian; Phyllis Koetz, chairman of recreation; Dixie Anderson, public relations chairman; Judy Meredith, president; Karen (last year's president); Diane Carrier, first vice-president; Peggy Gjerde, second vice-president; Rita Thomas, secretary; and Sharon Lieske, treasurer.

NEW FUTURE Homemaker of America club members—Gladys Sanders, Cindy Quinn, Daphne Mitchell, Carol Miller, June Gagliardo, Tonja Frye, Kay Fike, Carol Ann Engberg, Sharon Cusick—model their "crazy hat" contest creations.

Steps to Future

Projects of the members of the Ottawa chapters of the Future Homemakers of America and the Future Farmers of America prepared the students for later activities as homemakers and farmers or for other occupations in farm- and home-related areas.

Principal social affair for the FHA girls was the Spring Formal, bringing hours of planning, decorating and, of course, dancing. For the first time, the chapter observed Heart Sister Week, similar to "secret pals".

During FHA Week club members presented the women teachers with red roses — FHA flower. As a year-long project the club gave money and other gifts to the Retarded Children's School. Members participated in the FHA Rally Day in the fall and held their initiation in the spring.

For FFA members pest control became a contest with the winning team receiving free refreshments at a chapter swimming party. The group also held a pigeon hunt and harvested its test plot of corn.

Green Hand initiation, a leadership training school at Waterman, a trip to the International Livestock Show and a joint hog sale with the Seneca chapter marked the FFA fall and winter calendar. In the spring the senior members toured the International-Harvester plant in East Moline and the chapter had its Parent-Son Banquet.

Cadet Officers Direct Activities Of Military Corps

Queen Judy Reigns

In traditional long, white formal with a touch of gold, Judy Pillion walked down the aisle to "Pomp and Circumstance" as the Homecoming Queen for 1963.

"I crown you Queen of the 1962 Homecoming" had meaning for all as Judy received the gold and crimson crown from Cadet Col. Dave Loebach. She carried the traditional red roses.

Gold was the color theme of Queen Judy's court. Flowers for attendants Candy Purcell, Margaret Amadon, Connie Wagner and Sandy Cokley were gold roses in a colonial arrangement.

Queen Judy was named by vote of all OHS students. Each class, in separate balloting, named the four class attendants to join the court of Queen Judy.

Robert Clapper at conclusion of coronation ceremony.

We Plan Floats, Eagerly Build 'em ... Rain Ends All!

Unaware of what the weatherman had in store for Homecoming night, OHS began its festive plans weeks before the big day, as the Civic Council outlined the traditional activities for Oct. 19.

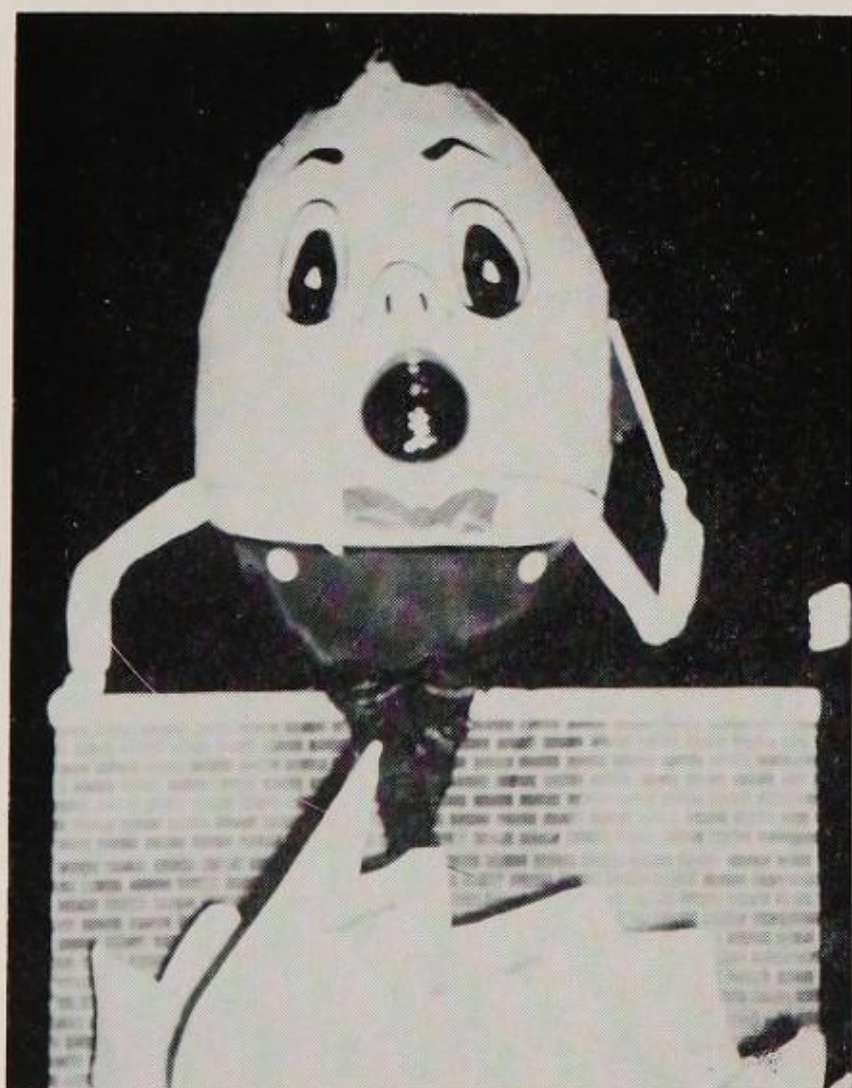

Homecoming festivities opened Thursday night when the cheerleaders and cadet officers led the snake dance from Washington Park to King Field. The varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders then led Pirate fans in victory yells before a crackling bonfire.

Friday morning the seniors featured the Pirate-stones in the pep skit "The Discovery and Development of Football" narrated by Sharon Himes and Pat Lynott. Next came the processional march of the royal court and the crowning of Queen Judy Pillion.

Then came the rain! Undaunted by Mother Nature's dampness, the Pirates battled to a 6-0 victory over Sterling's Warriors. No floats made the traditional halftime encirclement of King Field, but the judges selected the juniors' Humpty Dumpty and "Watch 'Em Fall" the winner. The seniors were second with a spidery float and "Let's Spin A Win". Then, inside, out of the deluge, OHS alumni and students danced in Kingman Gym to conclude the events.

SENIORS Candy Purcell and Judy Pillion busily stuff white napkins into the chickenwire for the Queen's float.

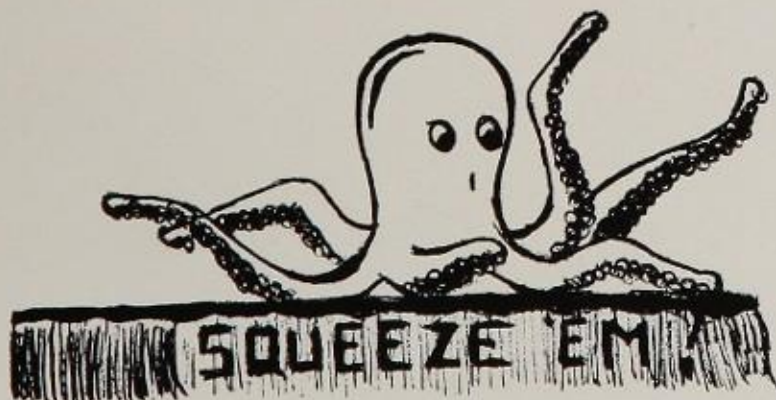

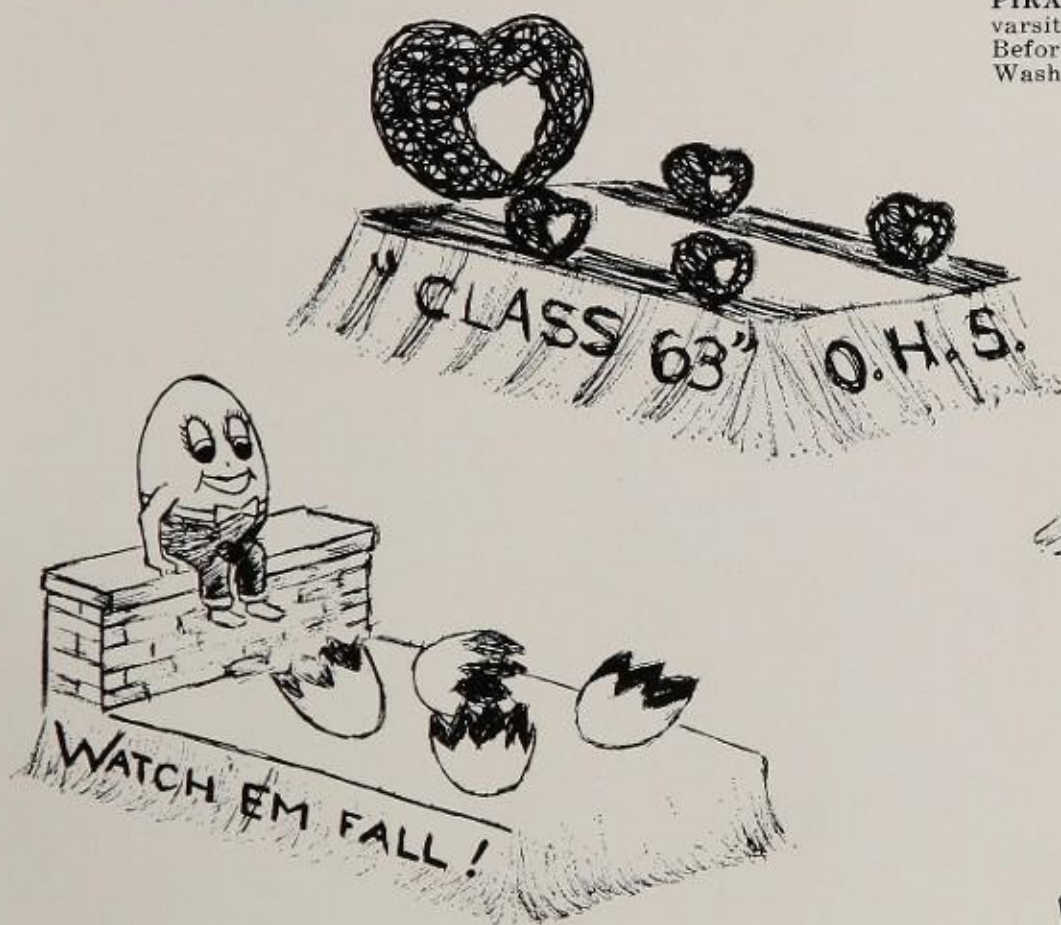

SENIORS Nan Eichelkraut (bottom), Kay Rensch, and Penny Johnson add napkins to the Queen's float for Homecoming.

PIRATE cheers echo across the practice area of King Field as varsity cheerleaders and students join in Homecoming pep rally. Before pep session and bonfire, Pirate boosters paraded from Washington Park downtown to the practice field in the rain.

It's Dance Time ... All Join the Fun— The Music's Fine!

Dance time is fun time — and good fellowship time! From after-game dance to Prom, from spine-testing twist to lilting waltz, from casual exchange dance with newly-met friend to dreamy moment with that "one-and-only", from uncertain freshman to worldly senior — all this and more is our dance time.

COUPLES enjoying a dance after a football game are Shelia Craft, Ed Haage, Arnold Barr and Judy Franz.

CARRYING balloons and sucking lollipops are students Jean Parks, Sandy Burns, Larry Seeman and Karla Keiber.

ANN HENNESSY, Gerry Cross, Joyce McCollough and Al Skaronea enjoy themselves at a dance after a basketball game in Kingman Gym with music provided by the Tempos.

TWISTING to the music are couples Ken Clapper and Marsha Stewart, Bill Albertson and Linda Navarro, Charlene Deurell and Ed Dulian, Shirley Gretencord and Kay Sesto. The affair was the annual Latin Club dance held after basketball game.

BAND MEMBERS under the direction of Johnny Kaye play music for the annual Military Ball on Thanksgiving Eve.

"Rhapsody in Blue" — that was the theme of this year's Military Ball, Wednesday, Nov. 21, in Kingman Gym — the first of four formals during the year.

Dancing to the music of Johnny Kaye and his orchestra, nearly 150 couples attended the dance. Leading the Grand March were top-ranking cadet officers and their dates.

To carry out the theme, the Cadet Corps used a color scheme of midnight blue and white, highlighted by silver chandeliers hanging from the ceiling. Along the east wall spotlights emphasized the enlarged decorations of sheet music for "Rhapsody In Blue".

Christmas Ball, Spring Formal Bring Moments To Last Forever

Providing moments to remember were the Christmas dance and the Spring Formal.

Open to all students and alumni, the sophomore-sponsored holiday dance Dec. 15 featured Yuletide decorations. George Nichols' orchestra provided dance music in Kingman Gym, decorated with a huge Christmas tree. Santa Claus called on the dancers.

Selecting a "carousel" theme, the Future Homemakers of America held its Spring Formal April 19. Couples danced under a carousel of blue, red and yellow streamers to the music of Joe DeZutti. Cheryl Seeman and Bob Midnight were the Queen and King.

Balloons, Masks Add Festive Note To 'Madri Gras'

Festive balloons and masks, and decorations in orange, aqua, magenta and yellow widened the eyes of those who were expecting the traditional prom pastels Saturday, May 26, at the 1962 Junior-Senior Prom.

Kingman Gym was transformed into a lively, vibrant Mardi Gras scene by the brilliant colors which alternated to form a false ceiling. A large pinata filled with balloons, confetti and streamers, a life-size dragon and small multi-colored eye masks completed the affect. Music was by Joe DeZutti's orchestra.

GRAND MARCH at Mardi Gras was led by upperclass officers and their dates: Barb Pearson, Blaker Hennessy, junior president; Joy Read, senior treasurer, Kit Blunk; Janice Stevenson, Bill Callahan, senior vice-president; and Martha Christoff, Bill Rowe, president.

Kay Krabel, Pat Davidson Enact Leads

Heading the cast of the all-school play, Moss Hart's "You Can't Take It With You," were Pat Davidson and Kay Krabel. Pat portrayed merry old Grandpa Vanderhof, and Kay played Penny Sycamore, the accidental playwright.

Creating the love interest were Ann Pearse as Alice Sycamore and Bill Granby as Tony Kirby.

Others in the cast with major roles were Louise Perkins, Tony Panko, Steve Miklavcic, Rick Less, Betty Jo Sutton, Larry Mitchell, Rhey Pope and Joel Greenspan.

Contest Players, Speech Unit Gain District Victory

Capturing both the individual events and play trophies in the district contest and thus qualifying nine students and the play "A Young Lady of Property" for sectional competition highlighted the speech season for Ottawa High.

In sectional competition Carol Carroll and Lynda Mills captured third places, Kay Krabel finished fourth, and Kay Rensch took the only fifth place award.

In the North Central tournament, the contest play finished first, while a third place certificate was awarded to OHS' individual events contestants.

Climaxing their second year of competition, the varsity debaters tied for eighth in the sectional tournament. The varsity squad won 60 per cent of its debates, while the sub-varsity debaters won 42.5 per cent. In NCIC competition the debaters finished second in a close elimination round with Sterling duo.

Win Applause

Assemblies causing the most comment from the OHS students and faculty were those of the Telstar exhibition, painting with colored sand and a solo trumpeter-tenor.

Early in the fall, OHS held its cadet assembly, a Latin American Good Will program and the annual Homecoming assembly.

In November the students' power of concentration was tested with "Mind In Action". A travelogue film of Germany was shown later that month.

During the winter season, programs on the "Hall of Modern Science", the American Indian, the poetry of John Witcomb Riley, and movies of "Animals at Night" were presented.

Springtime brought the Senior Day program and honors programs.

Five New Clubs Among Our 52 Varieties

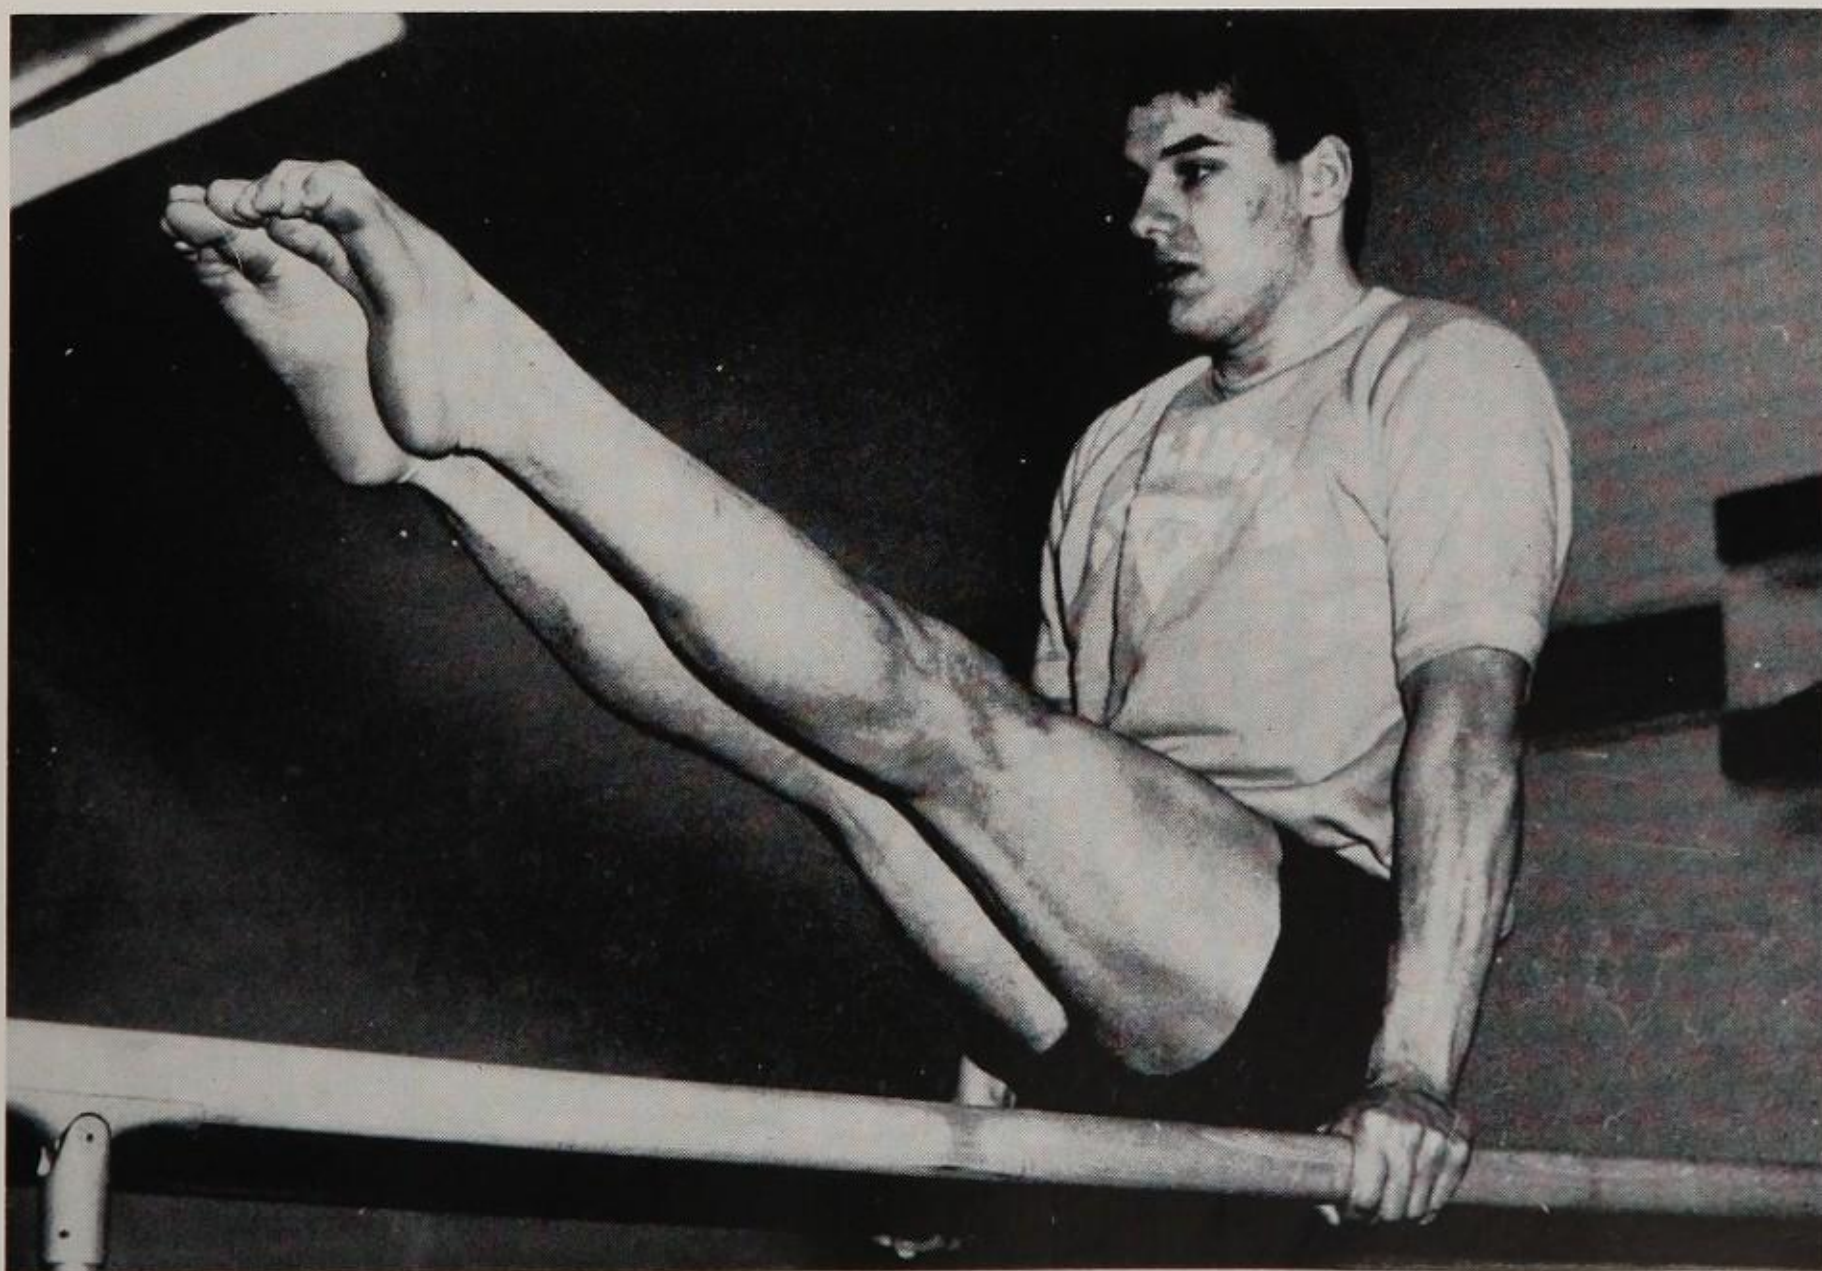

WHICH clubs should I select? During club registration OHS students ponder lists of A and B clubs before making two choices and signing up with council members.

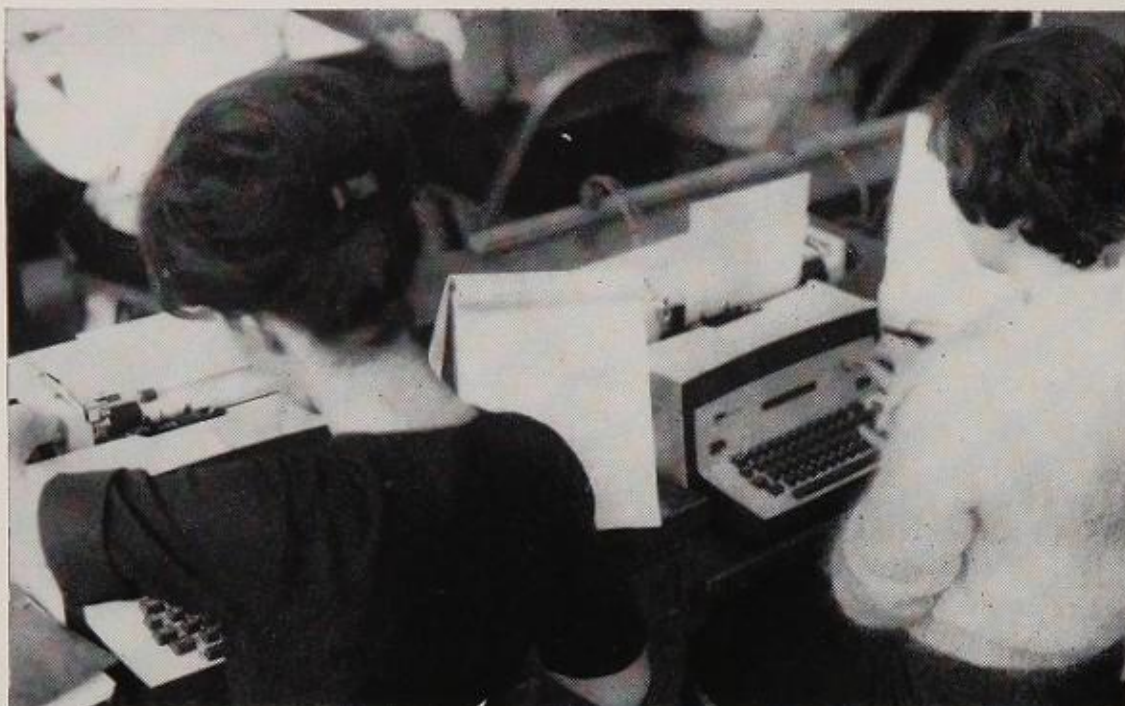

Students selected their A and B clubs from among 52 activities as the Civic Council conducted its annual club registration in the Kingman Gym lobby during September.

Five new clubs were added to the program this year: Music Studying and Listening, sponsored by Mr. B. J. Muus; Fishing, Mr. Robert Anderson; Freshman Debating, Mr. Paul Batty; International Club, Miss Cheryl Gustafson; and Camera Club, Mr. J. O. Herren.

The new music club replaced the Hi-Fi Record Listening Club previously sponsored by Mr. Muus. Mr. Batty had a debating group previously, but the new group was limited to freshmen. International Club is an outgrowth of Miss Gustafson's travels and teaching experiences in Lebanon service schools.

GYMNAST George Bute, member of Mr. Bob Raudonis' Gymnastics Club, does half lever on the parallel bars. Active in YMCA gymnastics activities, the Ottawa High senior won an Iowa "Y" division title and competed in the Illinois meet in April.

The club studied varied areas of decorations.

Club Sizes As Varied As Interests

From small groups of 12 or less to large units of over 50, OHS clubs offered activities as varied as their sizes. From participant sports to historical study of the Civil War, club activities also involved such diverse activities as nursing, woodcraft, dramatics, checkers, painting, bridge and other card games, typing, fishing, debate, foreign language projects, singing, horsemanship, photography and farm work.

BRIDGE CLUB members munch on refreshments while learning to play the intrinsic game of bridge. Seated: Sharon Spence, Jane Love, Jill Peddicord and Kay Kleinmaier. Standing: Gail Rowlee, Bob Heiss, Jonn Dettore, Mr. James Harris, Steve Maggi, Marsha Stewart, Janice Ruff. Students met during A club periods.

CHESS club member Bob Fancher watches as foe Larry Layne moves his bishop.

LIBRARY CLUB members Joe Preci, Vicki Sawyer, Carol Allen, John Lasswell and Don Richardson prepare new library books for circulation by adding protective covers and checkout slips.

Club Activities Stimulate Worthy Use

BOWLING CLUB member Sandra Geiger takes aim and hopes for a strike—adding a little “body English” to help.

Interests in such sports as swimming, bowling, gymnastics and fishing continue into adulthood. Similarly, early fascinations with physical science and photography develop into life-long avocations or, perhaps, even professions. Each club project may kindle the spark of interest that flames a lifetime. Worthy use of leisure time is sign of educated man.

Club Periods Mean Change To Formulate Future Plans

While some high school students are not yet certain of their life's work, others have made fairly definite decisions about their work. Club periods provide time to further develop and investigate these choices.

College Club gives the seniors time to study academic requirements, entrance procedures and scholarship programs. Future Nurses Club means opportunities for early glimpses of future work. Also, such clubs as Library Club, International Club, Future Homemakers and Future Farmers bring study of what may be a job later. Each is a glimpse ahead.

COUNSELOR at Copley Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Aurora, Miss Dorothy Lindsay, discusses nursing with Future Nurse Club officers Pam Long, Bonnie Bray, Pam Chase, Sharon Farmer.

SENIORS meet to discuss their college plans with Mrs. William Novak, College Club adviser. Talking with Mrs. Novak are seniors Judy Meredith, Judithan Franz, Carol Wilcox and David Swanson.

Lead Matmen to 5-5-1 Mark

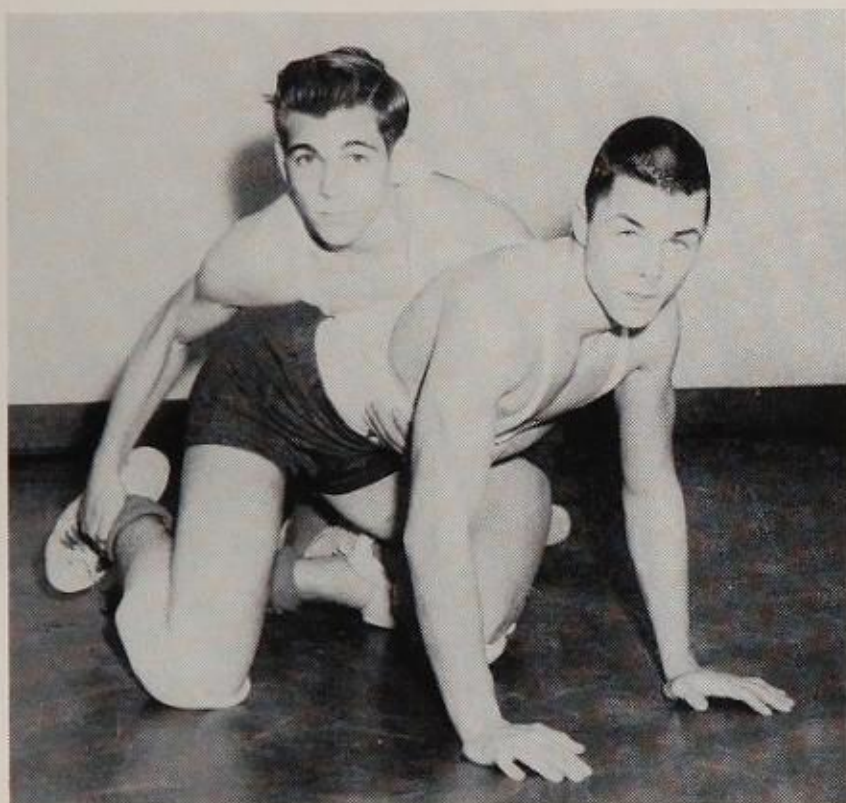

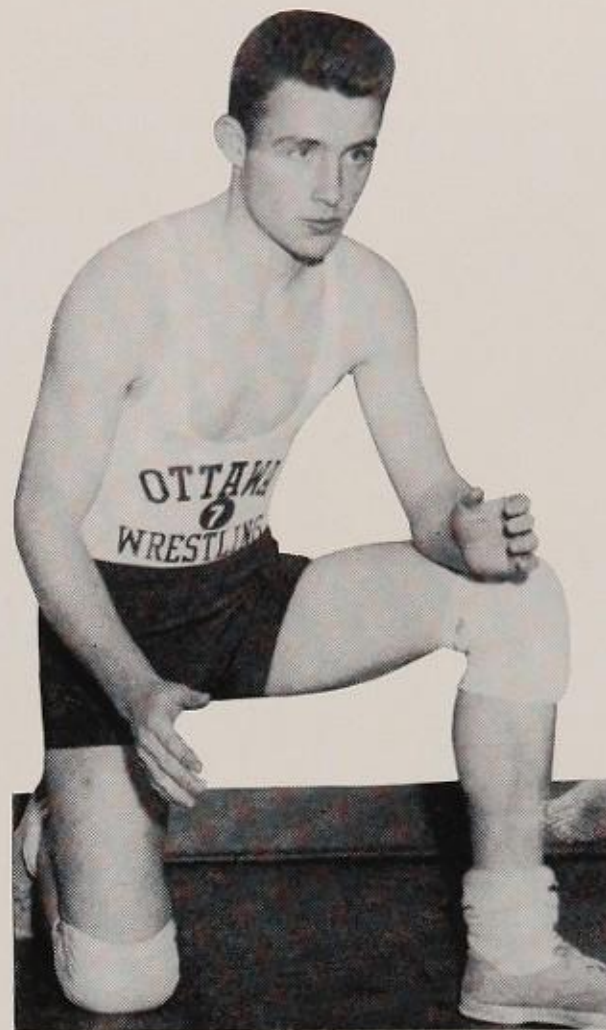

In his first year as head coach, Bob Raudonis led the grapplers to a respectful 5-5-1 dual meet record. With only two lettermen returning, the Pirates captured fifth in the North Central meet, second in the district and fourth in the sectional.

Ottawa also qualified two boys for the state meet, John Price and Don Carroll — marking the first time in six years Ottawa has sent more than one boy to the meet. Freshman Bob Schuett was voted "most improved" wrestler.

Leading the Pirates was honorary team captain Price with 23 wins and 6 losses. Following Price in varsity wins were Greg Knutson, 16-9-1; Carroll, 14-3; Craig Denny, 11-9; Hank Lieske, 10-9; and Ed Thorsen, 10-11.

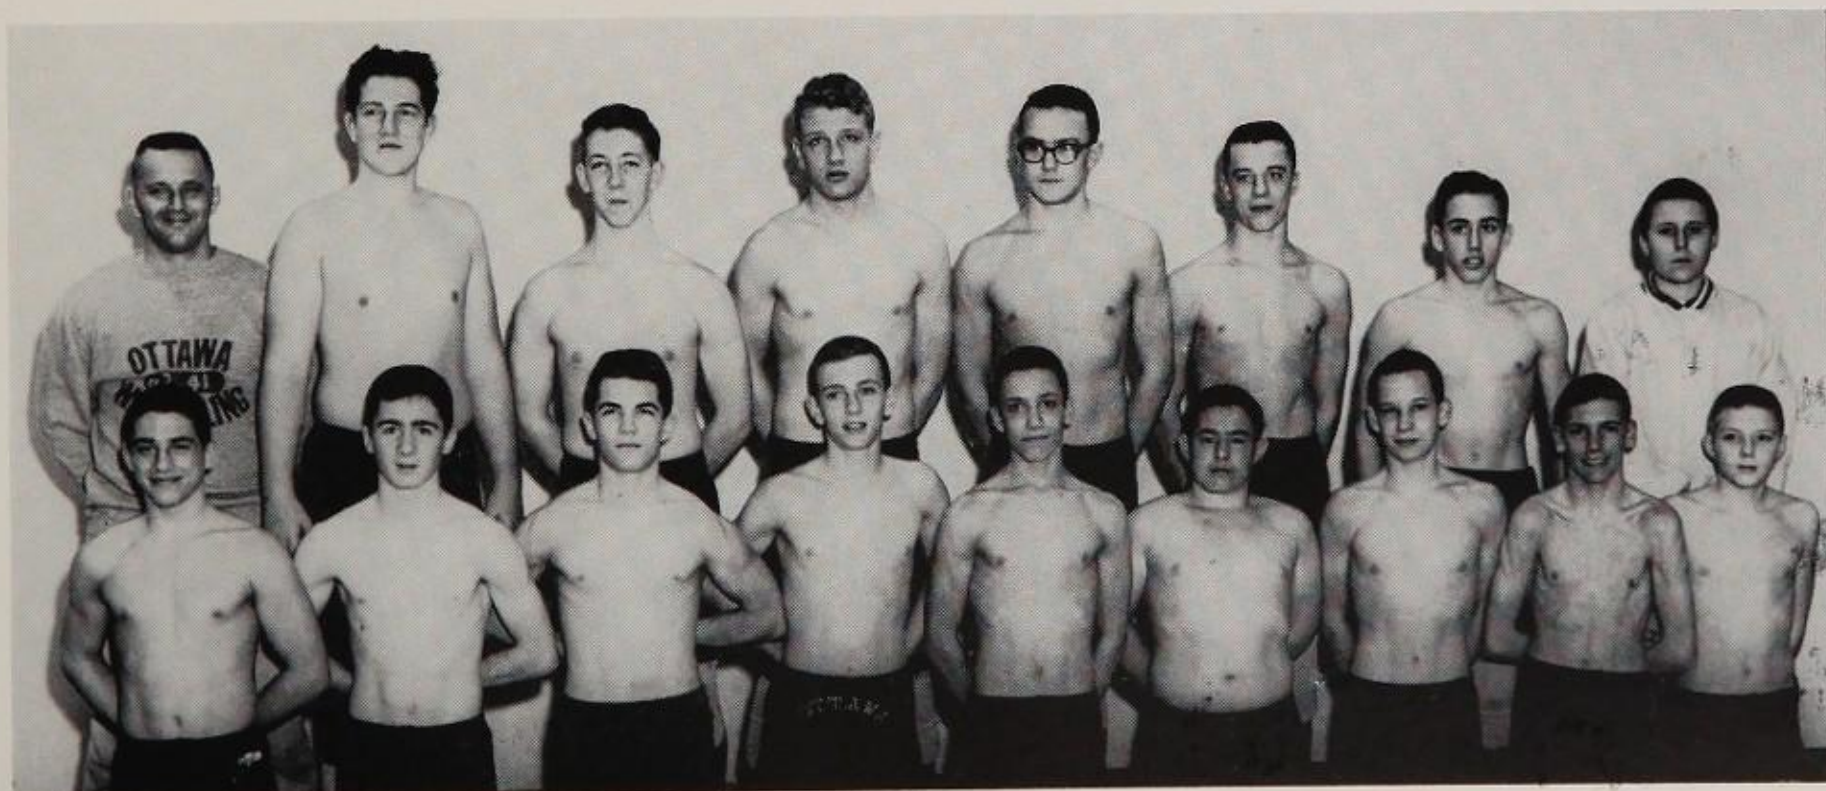

Coach Bud Sand's junior varsity finished the season with a 6-5 record. Leading the Corsairs was Jim Baldoni with a 5-3-1 mark. Following Baldoni were Jim Hill, 4-3, and Glenn Hoenes with 4-0-1.

Netters Continue Quest for State Honors

SENIOR letterman on the varsity tennis squad, Quentin Pletsch warms up prior to court action against DeKalb.

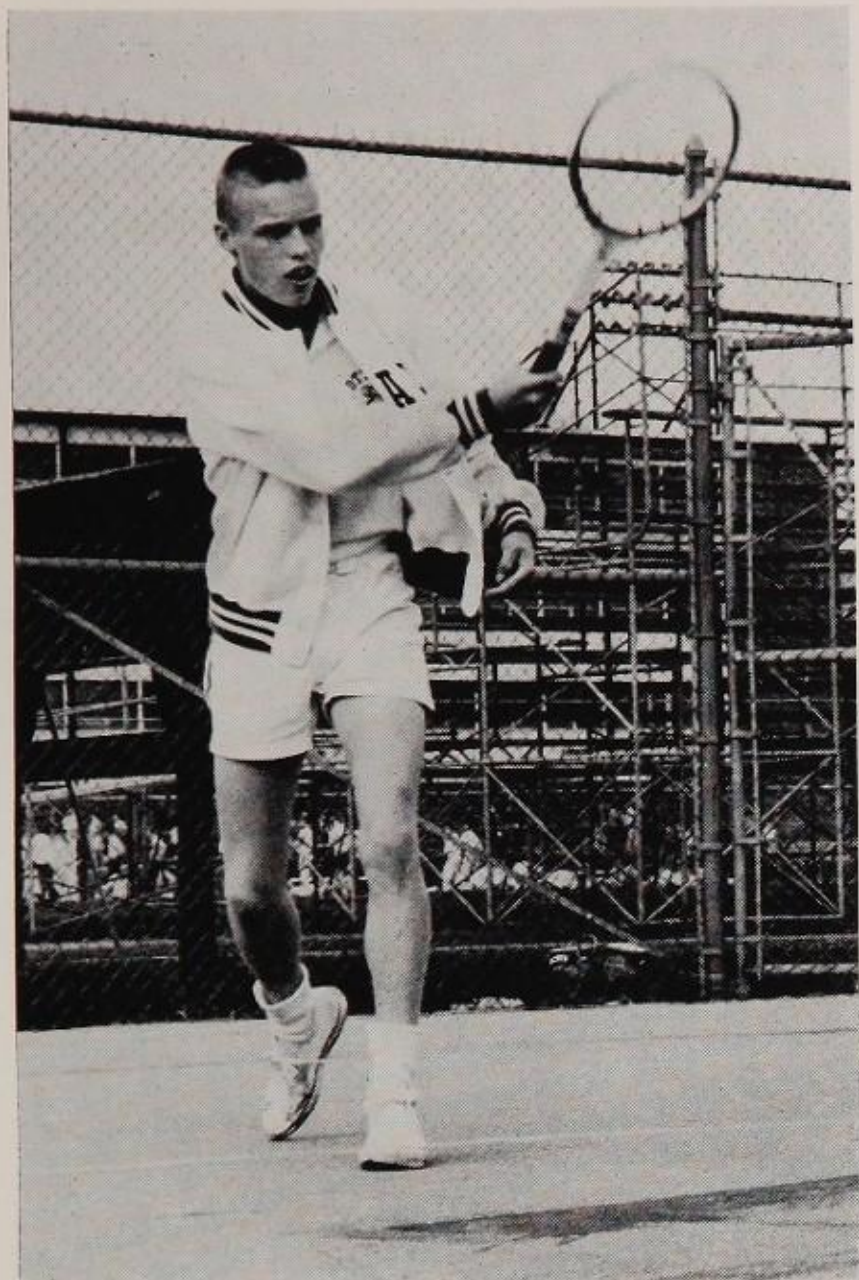

With two doubles teams and one singles player, Ottawa again made a bid for the state championship. The netters captured the Illinois Valley and the district championships. Composed of one senior, two juniors, a sophomore and three freshmen, the squad, through the middle of May, won 13 and dropped 5.

In the district, the doubles competition was all-Ottawa, as the combination of Quentin Pletsch and Mark Shumaker defeated Dean Antrobus and Terry Rosborough for the doubles crown. In singles action, Bill Jansen won the title and advanced to the state finals along with the Ottawa doubles teams of Coach Tom Henderson.

Jansen teamed with Jim Reynolds to win the Illinois Valley doubles title from teammates Rosborough and Antrobus. Ottawa's Shumaker was runner-up to Mike Hayes of Morris for the singles title in I.V. action. Ottawa captured its ninth straight team title with 12 points. Morris had 6 points for second.

In freshman-sophomore competition, Coach Lyle Guenther's Corsairs posted an 8-3-1 record through May 13.

The 1962 net squad posted a season's record of 17-3. Coach Henderson's squad captured the I. V. title, the North Central crown and the district, and scored three points in the state finals. The junior varsity squad also won the 1962 NCIC championship.

Calendar Crowded With GAA Sports

Fall activities of the Girls' Athletic Association included tennis and swimming. The tennis team has lost only one game in nine times during the last three years.

GAA's swimming team placed third this year in the state meet with Sally Claus winning two first places and one second place. Other individual winners were Gayanne DeVry, Cindy Sanders, Barb Grove, Jane Love, Sandy Hornbeck, Nicky Gerding and Pam Tuite. A relay team—Nicky Gerding, Barb Grove, Kay Rensch and Cindy Sanders—also placed.

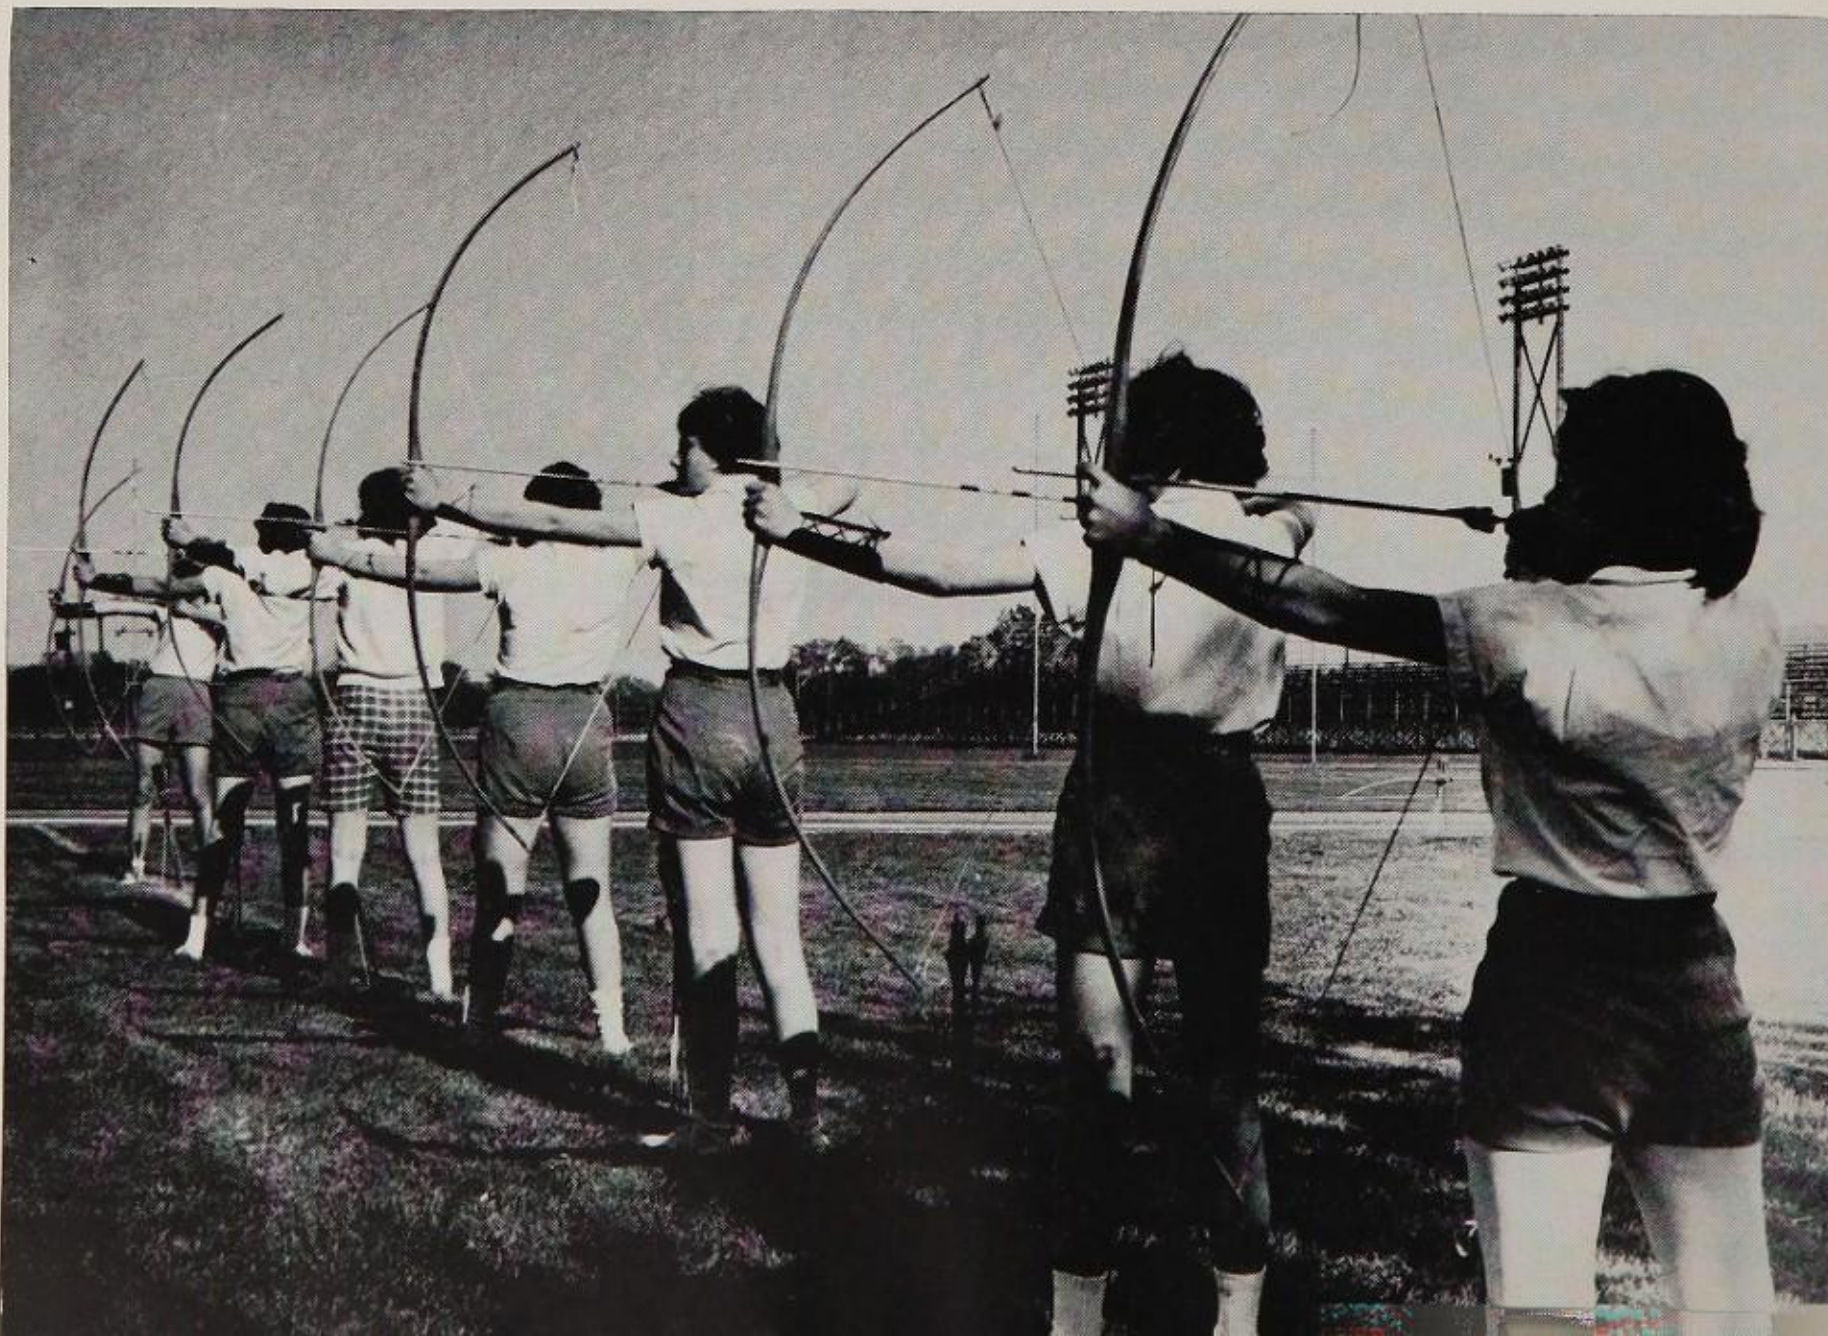

During the winter the girls participated in volleyball, basketball and bowling. GAA entered the state basketball tourney with Sally Claus as high scorer, coming through eight for nine tries. The basketball season was climaxed with a faculty-student game, won by GAA with Darlynn Collins as high scorer with ten points. In bowling Sheila Mann led the scoring with 160. Other high scorers were Judy Kinzer, Linda Watts and Chris Gasser.

Spring sports included archery and softball. Other activities were Play Days at Serena and Woodland, a camping trip to Camp Tuckabatchee, and selling Easter lilies on Lily Day for the Easter Seal drive.

Intramurals — with competition open to all OHS boys — saw platoon AI, Drum Corps and platoon DI dominating the year-long competition with three first places each.

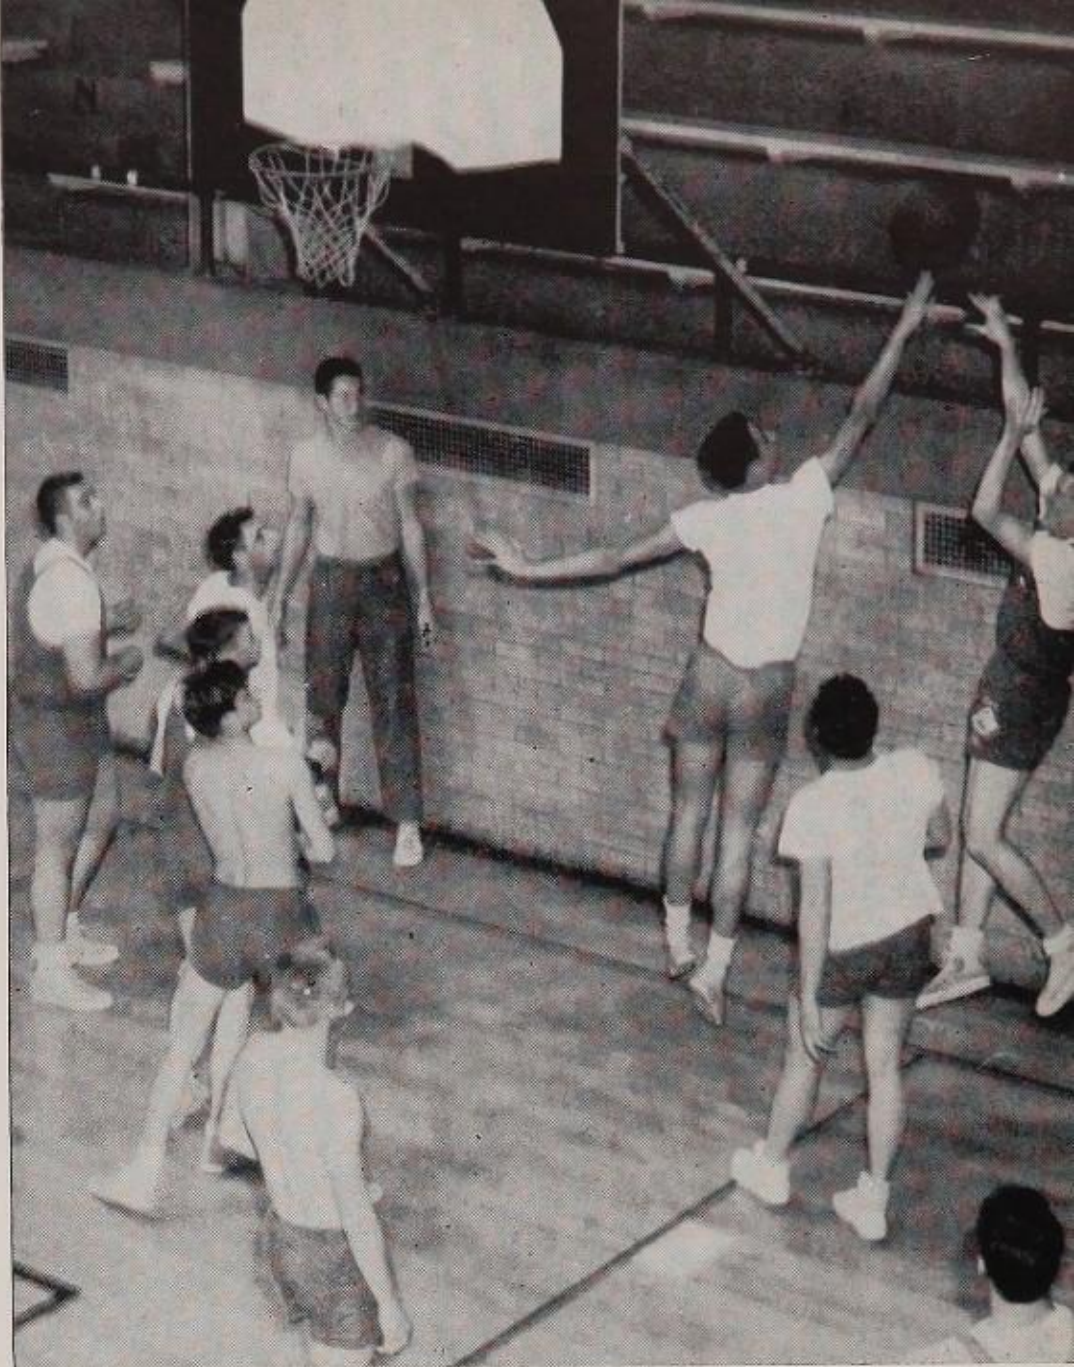

Titles going to AI were free throw competition — new to the program this year, touch football and basketball. Drum Corps captured the tug-of-war, volleyball and tennis (tie with DII) crowns. DI won pushball, softball and wrestling.

AII and BI finished with two first-place titles each. AII excelled in riflery and track, while titles in table tennis and cross country went to BI.

Band, EI, DII and EII had one championship each. First semester scholarship honors went to Band. EI, DII and EII won swimming, tennis (with Drum Corps) and putting, respectively.

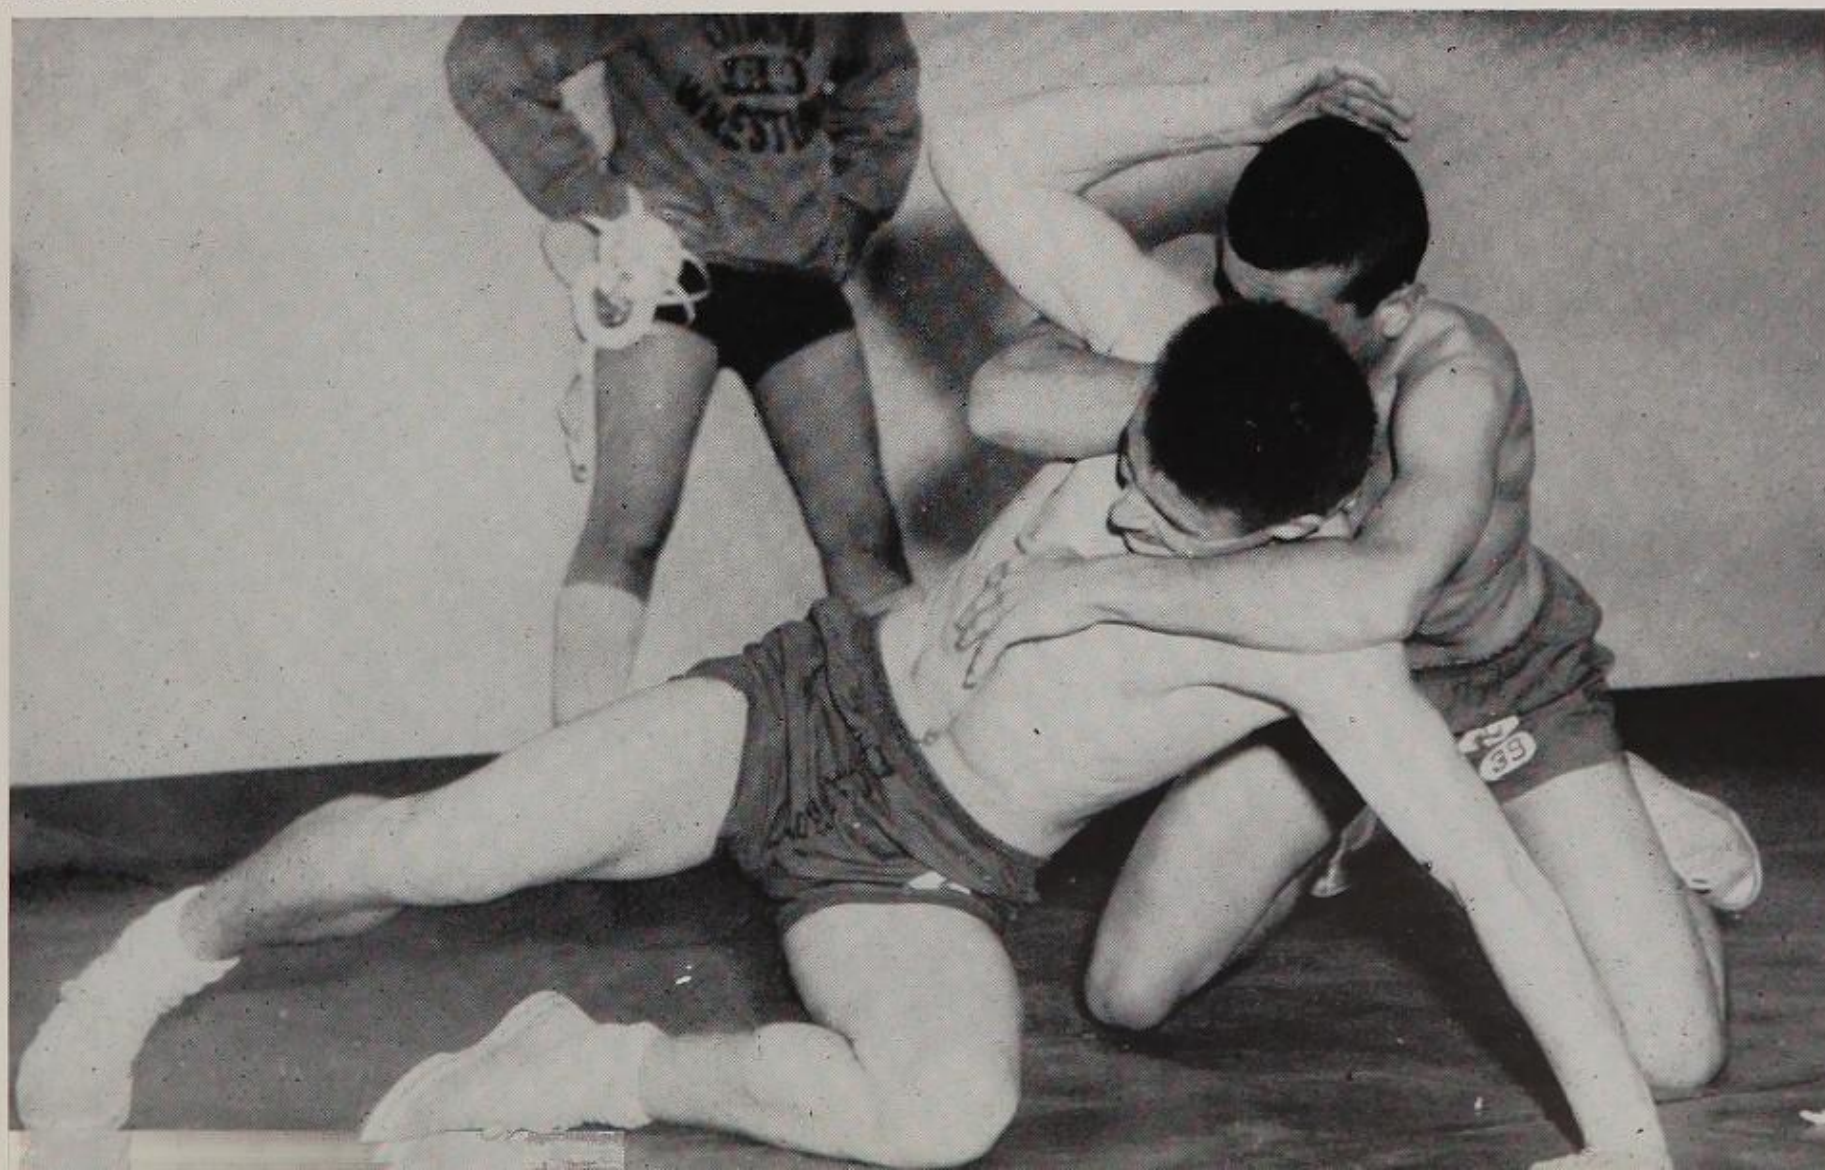

In freshman-sophomore action EII was the big winner with four crowns — in cross country, basketball, tug-of-war and riflery. AII won track and field and swimming championships. Band placed first in table tennis and scholarship (first semester).

Other freshman-sophomore winners were EI in touch football; AI, volleyball; FI, wrestling; CI, tennis; FII, free throw; and BI, golf putting contest.

INTRAMURAL wrestler Don Carroll, front, reaches to grab head of opponent Carl LeBeau in junior-senior action. Platoon DI captured the upperclassman intramural wrestling championship. Band captured title in freshman-sophomore grappling action.

VARSITY cheerleader squad consists of Ann Hennessy, Nan Eichelkraut, Candy Purcell, Penny Johnson, Mary Ann Yednock. Nan, Candy, and Penny are seniors; Ann and Mary Ann are juniors. Alternate is Karen Burke.

"Pirates, Pirates, go, fight, win! We want a V-I-C-T-O-R-Y for the V-A-R-S-I-T-Y. . . ."

Leading these and many other rousing cheers were varsity cheerleaders Nan Eichelkraut, Penny Johnson, Candy Purcell, Ann Hennessy, Mary Ann Yednock and alternate Karen Burke.

Sue Hayward, Sandy Hornbeck, Jane Love, Joan Love and Rose Sipula, serving as junior varsity member cheerleaders, aided the varsity members in pep assemblies and cheered at junior varsity football and basketball games. Connie Wagner served as alternate.

Wearing new skirts and sweaters, both squads aroused spirit from the OHS cheering section. After their regular season the cheerleaders held their annual slumber(less?) party, chaperoned by their supervisors Misses Nancy Hoerger, Sandra Foster and Lucille Capponi, physical education instructors.

Curricular

Board, Administrators Turn Careful Plans

From planning stage to actual practice, the educational activities at OHS are supervised by the Board of Education and the administrators — Supt. MacRae Shannon and Mr. George Willy, assistant superintendent.

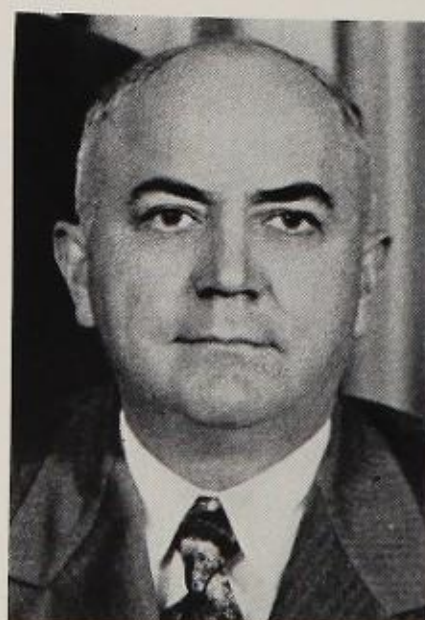

Heading the 1962-63 board, President A. LaClair Perkins co-ordinated the board's activities. Mr. Arthur Walter will serve in a similar capacity for 1963-64. The board, among its many functions, prepares the annual budget, oversees curricular plan-

Faculty Now Numbers 63; Over 40 Have M.A. Degrees

Of the 63 staff members teaching at OHS this year, 42 hold their master's degrees and 20 have their bachelor of arts degree. Included in these 63 are 13 faculty members new to OHS this year.

Miss Judith Davis, a graduate of Illinois State Normal University, majored in English and minored in library science.

A graduate of OHS in 1955, Miss Cheryl Gustafson—also a graduate of Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn.—taught in Choueifat, Lebanon, for two years.

Mr. Harry Adrian, a graduate of Lincoln University, also attended St. Mary's College in Winona, Minn.

Mr. Robert Anderson, former principal of Dimmick School, is a graduate of Illinois State Normal University.

Mr. J. O. Herren graduated from the University of Oklahoma. This past summer he attended the University of Missouri School of Journalism on a Wall Street Journal Fellowship.

Also new to OHS are Miss Lucille Capponi and Mr. Robert Bernardin, both graduates of Northern Illinois University.

Mr. John Huber, a graduate of Southern Illinois University, received his master's degree from the University of Illinois. Mr. Nanfred Sand, a graduate of Luther College, holds a master's degree from Northern Illinois University.

Mr. Joseph Soltis graduated from St. Procopius College and is working toward his master's degree in classical languages at the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Charles Sheaff graduated from the University of Missouri. At mid-term she replaced Mrs. John Huber, a graduate of Southern Illinois University. Study hall supervisor, Mrs. Ronald Anders attended Minnesota College, Minneapolis.

We Examine the World, All Its Facets

"All the world" may have been a stage to William Shakespeare, but to OHS students it's theirs to investigate, to ponder — and to improve.

In his four years at Ottawa High, each student can develop the skills of his native language; learn another tongue — several, if he so desires; discover the mysteries of mathematical manipulations; fathom the nature of the universe and its inhabitants — man, animal and plant; learn the techniques of mechanical drawing, woodshop and metalshop; examine man's efforts to govern himself—and the results of those social endeavors; master the skills of the home — cooking, sewing and management; learn of farm operations; develop proficiencies in typing, shorthand, book-keeping and other business skills; improve his physical well-being through health and physical education classes; delve into the creative fields of music and the other fine arts; and, yes, learn to drive a car.

PHYSICS students await result of periodic wave length experiment. Senior Joyce McHugh pours water from flask into a ripple tank.

ART STUDENTS Sharon Bensema, Sharon Ringer, Jerry Hannigan and Dan Hemley work diligently on silk screen project in art class.

Staff Members Also Serving In Community

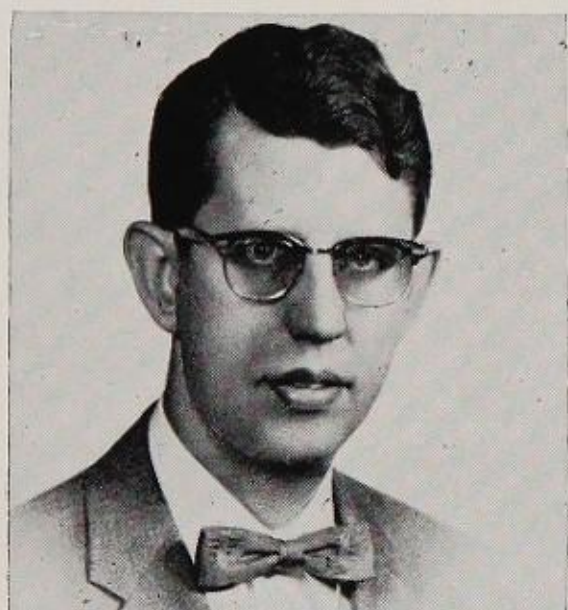

OHS faculty members are active citizens of the community. Many civic, church and social groups have Ottawa High teachers among their leaders and members.

Mr. McKay, who has served on the mayor's traffic safety committee, became a city commissioner in May. Mr. Burke is an officer of the Greater Ottawa group. Mr. Willy served this year as Rotary president. Mr. Johnston was a member of the Building Planning Commission. Mr. Sutherland directed city recreation activities during year.

We Learn and We Garner Varied Honors

As we pursue academic and curricular-related goals, we are recognized for our successes by various honors — class rank, Merit Scholar “letters of commendation”, scholarship grants, citizenship awards, etc.

These honors not only bring personal satisfaction but also are viewed with significance by others — our friends who congratulate us, our parents who proudly hail our successes, our teachers who are gratified by the results of their efforts, the community which vicariously shares the accomplishments of its school, the employer who estimates our potential and the colleges and universities who select us for more learning and more honors.

TOP SENIOR scholastic students for first seven semesters reminisce over past four years as they gaze at the school yearbooks. Holly Ann Neufeld and Nancy Rabenstein, standing, are tied for first place, while the two sitting, Kathy Yednock and George Hess, are in third and fourth places.

HOME ECONOMICS honors went to Becky Pfolsgrof, left, winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker award, and to Sharon DeBolt, champion in OHS cherry pie baking contest.

ENGLISH scholars Mary Kay Schellberg and Lynda Mills were named nominees for NCTE Achievement awards by English staff.

SENIORS scoring highest on the nation-wide mathematics test here were John Bieritz, Carol Carroll and Wayne Smith.

NATIONAL MERIT 'Letter of Commendation' winners are Becky Pfolsgrof, Linda Martin, Nancy Rabenstein, Ken Yednock and Kay Rensch. The quintet of seniors earned the honors as a result of high scores on the qualifying tests as juniors.

Faculty Learns Of Humanities In Special Class

OHS faculty members studied the humanities in a 16-week course, with a series of 12 films based on great dramatic literature as its core.

Special class sessions included Dean Allen Weller of the University of Illinois discussing "The Image of Man in the Fine Arts" and Dr. Royal McDonald, also of the U. of I., considering the development of music as an expressive art. Mr. Ray Makeever of the OHS staff also lectured on music theory.

Extra Duties Vital Portion Of Staff Work

In addition to their classroom duties, 16 teachers are coaches, 58 direct clubs and many sponsor other extra-curricular activities. Some take on special tasks such as that done by Mrs. Audrey Wheeler, who this year tutored two Mexican students in their study of English.

Serving as coaches are Messrs. Henderson, Johnson, Sand, Zimmerman, Adams, R. Anderson, Harris, Guenther, Riley, Sutherland, Nelson, Love, Huber, Gross, Raudonis and Novak. Mr. Krabel and Mr. Johnston assist at sports events. Mr. Fidler and Mr. Fread direct athletic ticket sales.

Directors of other activities include Mr. Burke, radio and recordings (with Mr. Krabel), Mrs. Novak, college adviser; Mr. Zimmerman, Civic Council; Mr. Grever, yearbook (with Mr. Herren) and newspaper; Mr. Batty, debate; Mr. Burns, publicity; Mrs. Rotter, dramatics; Mrs. Andrews, FHA; Mr.

Office Personnel, Cooks and Janitors Keep OHS Running

Through the storm of irregular schedules, occasionally unscheduled bell ringings and unusual weather, the school office staff, the cafeterial workers and the janitors manage to keep the Pirate ship called Ottawa High running smoothly, feed the voyagers well and maintain spotless decks.

Not by the wave of magic wand, but by persistent application of lots of elbow grease do these workers complete the myriad of tasks that are required to keep an educational institution functioning efficiently. This is the task of the five office workers, the seven cooks and the eleven on janitorial staff.

Henry Avery Heads Freshman Activities

Directed by Henry Avery, class president, the freshmen, as one fund-raising project, split the profits with the juniors from the sale of Pirate jewelry. They also started a coat check at basketball games.

Freshmen were hosts to their parents Oct. 24 for Freshman Night. Earlier in the year the class had picnicked at Buffalo Rock. Freshmen brought in the most clothing for the Civic Council drive — over 600 pounds. Room 901 (Mr. Adrian) was the top contributor. Sandy Cokley joined Queen Judy and the other class attendants in Ottawa's 1963 Homecoming court.

Jane Love Tops Sophomore Ballot Tally

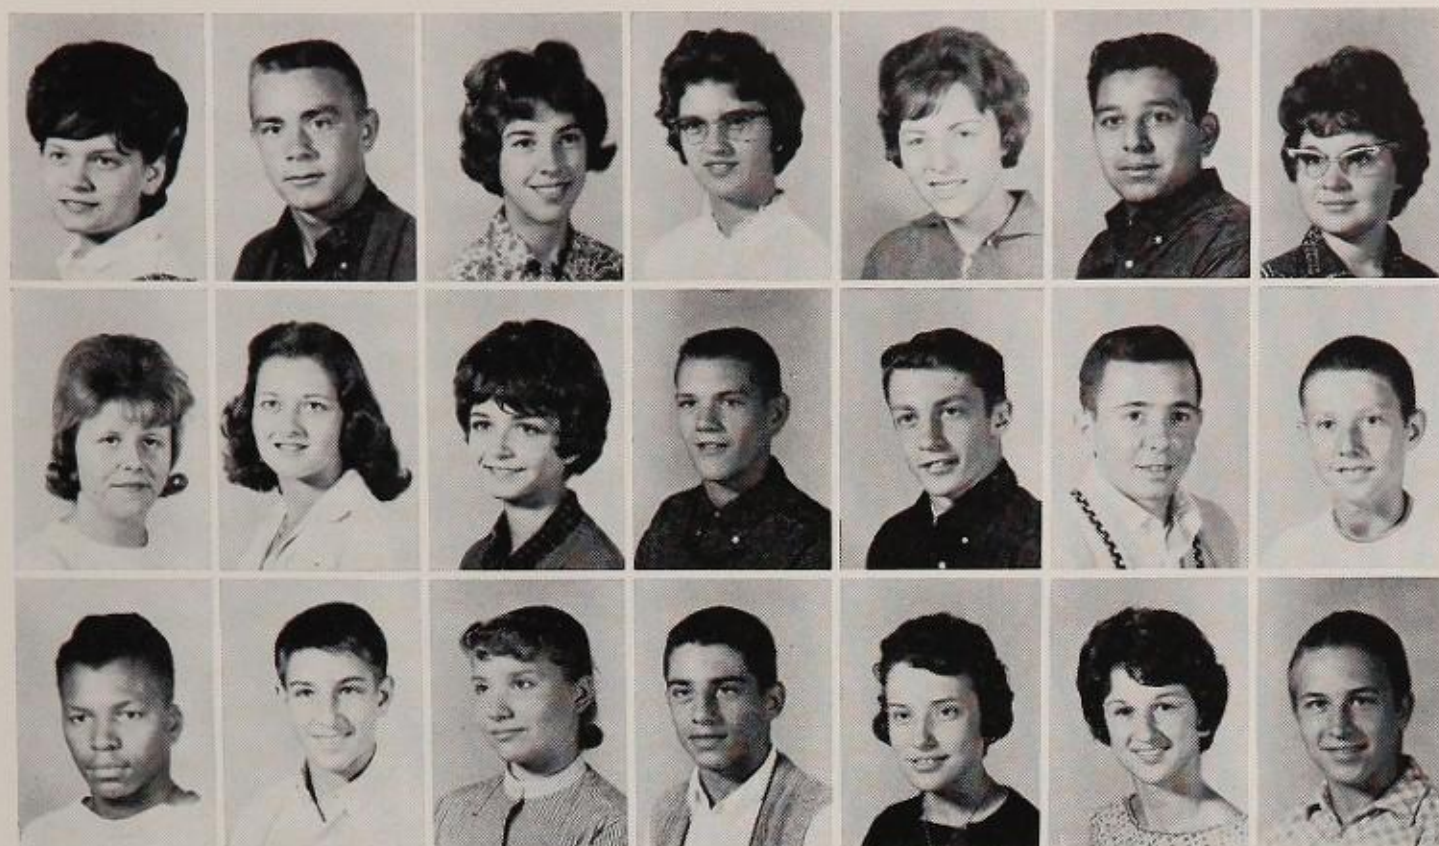

Sophomores named Jane Love to head their class activities. Assisting her were Farley Andrews, vice-president; Connie Wagner, secretary; and Dean Antrobus, treasurer. These officers worked with class sponsor, Mr. Vernon Adams, in planning projects.

Financially, the sophomores did well with Christmas card sales, in addition to the basketball badges — a second-year project for the class. The group also sold shakers. As their major venture the sophomores sponsored the holiday dance open to all OHS students and alumni. The class picnic was May 22.

Class rings were another important activity for sophomores, as they selected a ring design, ordered their rings and, of course, sometimes got involved in the exchange of these rings.

Three Beaus and a Belle Head Juniors

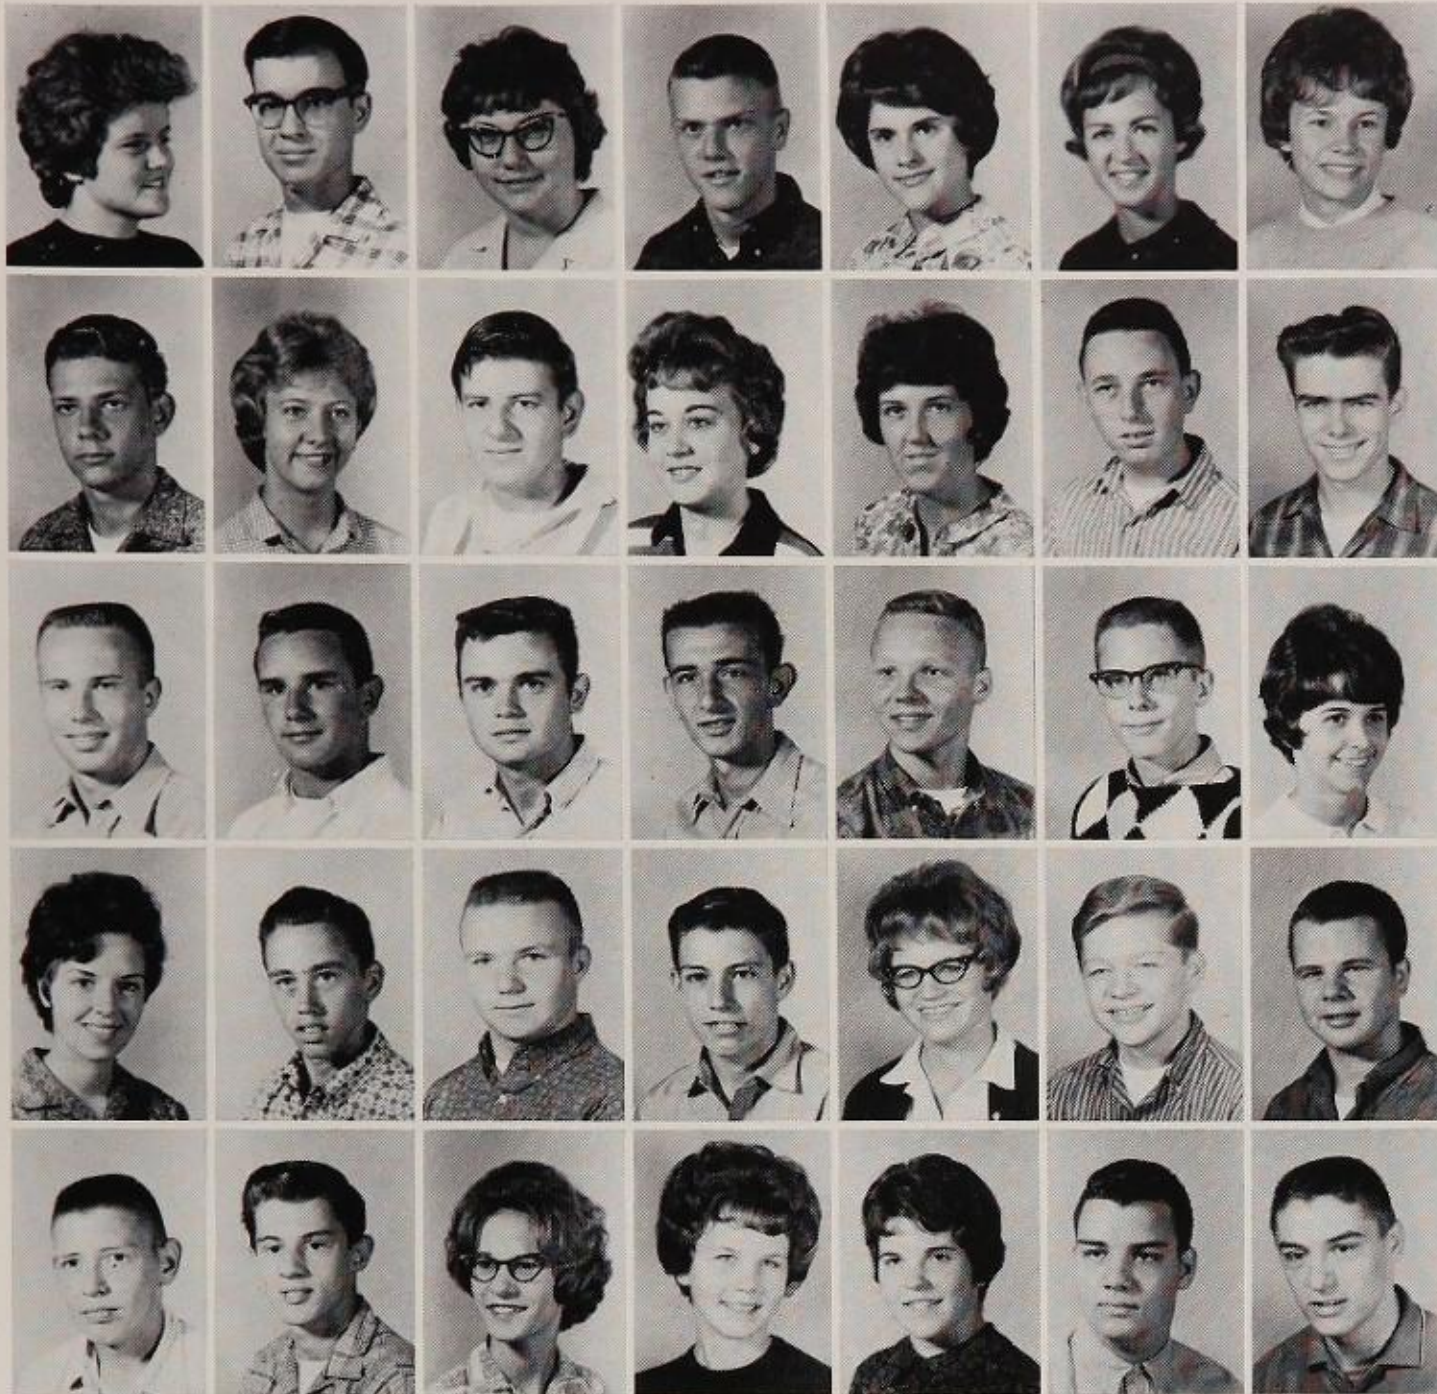

Directing junior activities were a trio of young men and one belle. Ricky Less topped the class ballot for president. Assisting him were Bob Murley, vice-president; Gayanne DeVry, secretary; and Dave Munks, treasurer. Mr. Robert Johnson served as class adviser.

Pirate jewelry, pop and the Junior Carnival served as fund-raising projects for the class. Working with the freshmen, the juniors sold jewelry including gold Pirate head pins with the graduating year attached, gold Pirate heads displaying one green eye, silver or gold Pirate head charms for bracelets and necklaces, and silver cuff links. Prices ranged from $1 to $3.

Juniors became pop venders at all home basketball games, with a different homeroom selling for each game. In March the juniors turned Kingman Gym into a carnival midway for the traditional Junior Carnival. Booths featured skeet-shooting with a cork gun, a dance contest, a Fun House, a cake walk, free throw shooting, a jail, darts and balloons, and a telegram office. Hot dogs and potato chips were also sold.

Major project for the class was the Junior-Senior Prom May 26. Using a Cinderella theme, the juniors used pastel yellows, a clock striking 12, glass slippers and a pumpkin bandstand to create the fairyland ballroom for prom goers.

JACKS anyone? Juniors Steve Maggi, Marilyn Mobley, Dave Munks and Ann Hennessy play jacks at exam dance.

JUNIORS Barry Stortz, Nancy Strow, and Karen Taggart construct egg shell for their "Humpty Dumpty" float.

STUDENTS gather around shooting gallery at the annual Junior Carnival to watch as Larry Mustered attempts to hit target.

Jim, Dave, Judy, Jerry Direct Class

In the fall of 1959, 320 of us entered OHS as freshmen. Thus we began a four-year journey toward graduation. The trip has been a memorable one — some of the experiences never to be forgotten; a few just as well unremembered.

Directing class activities that first year were Penny Johnson, president; Diane Signorella, vice-president; Sharonlynn Baker, secretary; and Kay Rensch, treasurer. Fund-raising projects were Pirate stickers and all-occasion cards. Of course, we picnicked, too, that first year — at Illini Park.

Back the next fall as sophomores we were host at the Freshman Mixer. Directing the sale of stickers, cards and candy were officers Quentin Pletsch, president; Lloyd Gribben, vice-president; Cinda Gregory, secretary; and Solveig Nelson, treasurer.

Carnival, banquet and prom — these were uppermost in our minds our junior year. Class officers were Blaker Hennessy, president; Dave Hermann, vice-president; Holly Ann Neufeld, secretary; and Nancy Poundstone, treasurer.

After an autumn excursion to Buffalo Rock for our picnic, we feasted again later — this time at the Junior Banquet. We also took bows for academic and extra-curricular achievements. In April we turned Kingman Gym into a carnival scene.

May 26 of last year we honored the seniors at the Junior-Senior Prom "Mardi Gras". Orange, blue, red and yellow crepe paper, confetti, balloons and masks converted Kingman Gym into a New Orleans street.

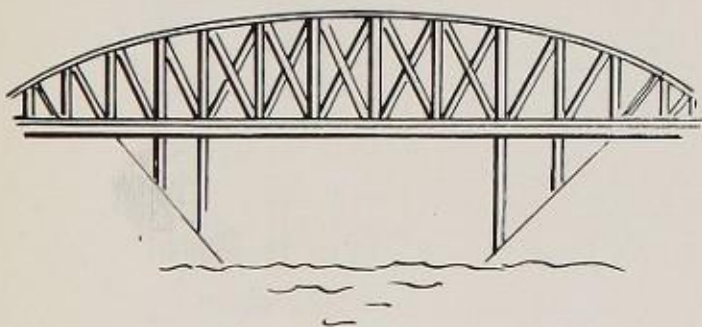

Then we were seniors — top class at last. We named Jim Anderson, Dave Loebach, Judy Pillion and Jerry Makeever to direct class plans. As in the previous three years, Miss Georgine Hess was class adviser.

Rain dampened an otherwise ideal Homecoming. Queen Judy Pillion and senior attendant Candy Purcell headed the Homecoming court. Our float "Let's Spin a Win" placed second. The Homecoming skit featured the Piratestones and the invention of football.

May 8 was our big day! Starting at dawn with the class breakfast we continued till dusk with the picnic. In between we relived our four years at OHS as we presented the traditional senior assembly.

Later in the month the juniors honored us at the "Cinderella" Prom, featuring soft pastel colors, a huge clock striking 12, of course, and a glass slipper bandstand.

June 7 we marched down the center aisle to receive our diplomas. As a final all-class get-together we attended the post-graduation Dawn Dance at the Boat Club downtown.

For service above and beyond ...

Dedication

For their combined total of 68 years of teaching service to Ottawa High School, the 1963 edition of The Senior is dedicated to Miss Marguerite Laugman and Mr. Harold Zuege. Miss Laugman and Mr. Zuege retired from teaching last June.

Both gave unendingly of their time to serve Ottawa High. Their students were their primary concern. Encouraging the successful to strive for higher goals, helping the struggling students to achieve success — these faithful public servants and gracious individuals lived the Chaucerian tradition: "And gladly would he teach and gladly learn."

Miss Laugman, who began her teaching career at OHS in 1941, taught history and English. She received her bachelor of arts degree from St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., and her masters degree from the University of Southern California.

Mr. Zuege came to Ottawa High in 1925, and served as manual training and mechanical drawing teacher, coach and ticket manager. Holder of a bachelor of science degree from Oshkosh, Wis., Teachers College, Mr. Zuege also was head of the industrial arts department and was class adviser several times.

MISS LAUGMAN, who retired last year from OHS faculty, expectantly opens gift at June retirement dinner. Others at table are Board President A. LaClair Perkins, Mrs. Perkins, and Mr. Glenn Grever, chairman of the English department.

May we explain . . .

Always, a part of man's searching has been the desire to bridge the gap from the known to the unknown, from the familiar to the strange, from this moment to tomorrow — and to the many tomorrows that follow.

For the Class of 1963, the four years at Ottawa High have been part of that quest. Together, and in association with less experienced travelers, the seniors have journeyed part of the Highway of Success. Now the journey takes on new twists and curves. The route becomes more varied — as diverse as the goals of the travelers.

During the seniors' four years at OHS, Interstate 80 became a reality. Ottawa moved, in a sense,

Your guide through these pages . . .

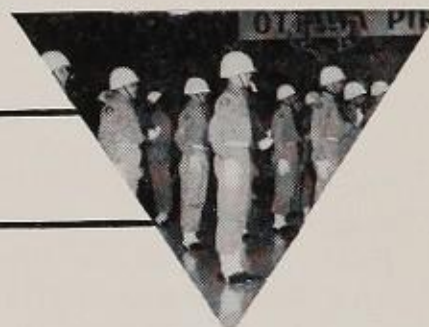

closer to the rest of the world. In that same span of time, plans for a second bridge for Ottawa did not become spans of steel. So, too, is it with our journey through life. Parts are as real as the concrete of Route 80. Others are, as yet, as uncertain as the bridge builder's dream.

This yearbook is a record of part of the journey — our travels — toward success on the Road of Life.

Thomas, Loebach Direct CC Sessions

Randy Thomas and Dave Loebach, as presidents, directed Civic Council activities. Each served for one semester.

Council members began the year by directing fall club registration. Homecoming activities, tuberculin tests, Christmas decorating, Carl Sandburg Penny Week and the annual charity fund drive completed first semester activities. The charity drive brought in $258.88 as freshmen led contributions with $72.89.

About a half ton of clothes made the clothing drive for the Save the Children Federation one of the largest held. Led by homeroom 901, the freshmen topped the other classes with 686 pounds of clothing.

The second-semester council also organized Student Government Day May 2. Two members — Farley Andrews and Connie Wagner — attended the April Illinois Assn. of Student Councils convention.

FIRST SEMESTER Civic Council officers—Penny Johnson, Betts Secor, Randy Thomas—discuss future council projects with their adviser, Mr. T. O. Zimmerman.

Junior and Senior Share Editorship of 'Buccaneer'

Heading the staff of The Buccaneer for the 1962-63 year were senior Pat Lynott and junior Martha Christoff. Martha was the second junior in OHS history to hold this post.

Buc staffers published 16 issues during the year, including a special April Fool's edition and an eight-page edition in May carrying both regular news and creative writing.

In national critical evaluation, The Buccaneer garnered an "A" rating from the National Newspaper Service and a "first class" mark from the National Scholastic Press Assn. Both ratings were for papers published first semester.

Norma Hoke and Betts Secor Manage

Co-editors for the 1963 Senior were Norma Hoke and Betts Secor. Helping them in their work were Holly Ann Neufeld and Penny Johnson, assistant editors.

Meeting during A and B clubs and after school on Thursdays, the members decided on a cover design, a color for the cover and a thematic design for layouts.

Last fall five staff members attended the convention of the Illinois State High School Press Assn. In May another delegation journeyed to the Northern Illinois Press Assn. meeting at DeKalb.

NHS Recognizes Academic Achievement

Forty-eight seniors, directed by Miss Georgia Powell, composed the first active group of the S. Isabella Sanders Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Speakers providing interesting entertainment at the group meetings included Miss Cheryl Gustafson, Miss Gertrude Pfeil, Supt. MacRae Shannon, Mrs. Audrey Wheeler, Mr. Paul Gerding and Miss Mary LeMay.

Main objective of the National Honor Society is the promotion of scholarship, character, leadership and service.

On May 16, juniors who were eligible for membership were initiated into the honor society during an all-school assembly led by officers.

Speech Troupe Honors Players

Thespian Troupe 1140 sponsored a Western all-school assembly in October and the speech banquet in April honoring those students who have excelled in dramatics.

At a dinner meeting in February, the Thespians, under the direction of Mrs. Ben Rotter, speech teacher, initiated two honorary members — Mr. Paul W. Batty, debate coach, and Mr. Harry Adrian, English teacher assisting with dramatics.

Colorful Tableaux Augment Splendor Of Music Concerts

Colorful tableaux added to the impressive Christmas and Easter concerts this year. Nine different scenes were given.

The Christmas program opened with "Symbol of Manger." Speech students then presented "There Was No Room At The Inn." Other tableaux for Christmas were "Procession of Angels", "Adoration", and "Mary and Joseph".

Among the four Easter tableaux were "The Shepherd", "Betrayal in Gethsemane" and "Easter Morn". A depiction of Hebrews 13:20-21 was the last scene.

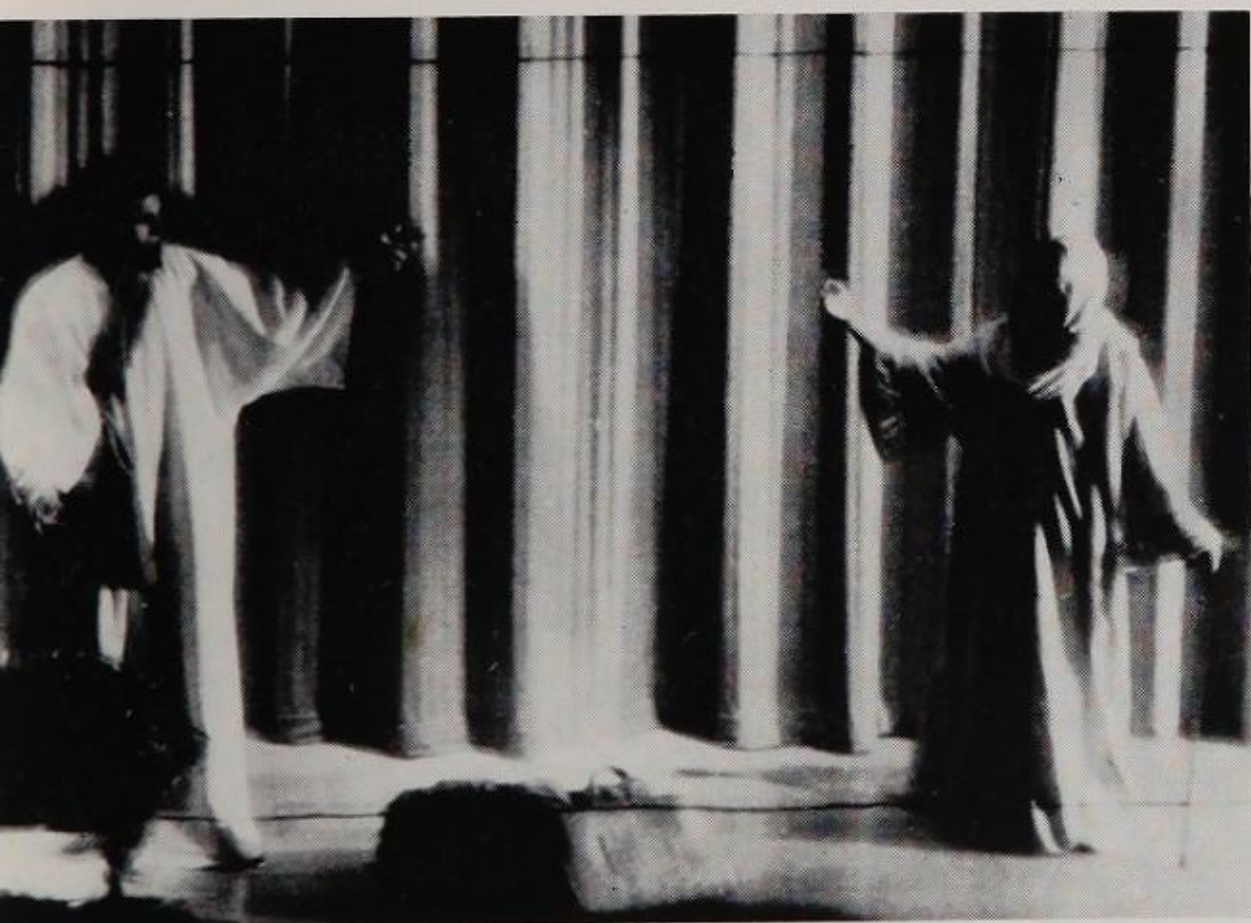

"PROCESSION of Angels", third of the Christmas tableaux, shows angels passing the Christ Child bearing an offering for the Babe of Bethlehem.

SENIORS Sue Alikonis, Diane Monterastelli and Jo Olson practice one of the tableaux presented by dramatics students to augment musical portion of concerts.

ONE of the tableaux presented with the annual Christmas concert shows Mary and Joseph, after being turned away at the Inn, finding room to stay in the stable.

Band Activities as Varied as Seasons

From fall halftime football shows to June graduation, the OHS band was busy with a variety of activities. Although rain cancelled the Homecoming halftime show, the band performed with the Girls Drill Squad at three home grid games. Then 20 bandsmen played in the North Central Music Festival at Streator, Nov. 17.

In the fall magazine sales drive, the band sold $1,932.03 worth of subscriptions, with Brenda Robinson top salesman. Ottawa served as host for the county sight-reading clinic. For home basketball games the band divided into two groups — the Red and the White. Both played for the sectional tourney in March.

Jerry Makeever and Candy Purcell represented OHS in the Illinois Music Educators Assn. District Two meeting at DeKalb. Jerry then took part in the IMEA state meet. Joining with the choirs, the band presented the traditional Christmas concert Dec. 14, for OHS students, and Dec. 15, for the public. The seventh annual winter concert Feb. 21 highlighted the Hiwaymen and a cornet trio — Jerry Ma-

keever, Greg Totel and Dana DeVry.

Bandsmen competed for individual state honors Mar. 16, taking 37 first-place ratings (details, page 32), and for organizational honors April 20, when the music department won Class A Sweepstakes honors. Also, in April, the band performed during the 11th annual Easter concert, and a small group from the band played for the Jefferson School PTA.

May 9 the band recorded selections for a record to be sold later. May 24 the band presented its 31st annual spring concert. After marching in the Memorial Day parade, the band completed the year with its appearance at commencement June 7.

Band officers were Jerry Makeever, president; Candy Purcell, vice-president; Ann Louise Johnson, secretary; Ellen Lynch, treasurer. Class representatives were Greg Knutson, junior; Steve Miklavcic, sophomore; and Tom Makeever, freshman. Second band representatives were Jack Fitzgerald, upperclassmen, and Don Ninness, freshmen in fifth hour.

During its 11-day summer trip the OHS band played 12 concerts and had time for in-between fun and sightseeing. Making the trip were 77 instrumentalists, one French foreign exchange student and the chaperons — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Makeever and Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnison.

First two concert stops were at Muscatine and Ames, Ia. Then the band played five concerts in South Dakota—at Mobridge, Dell Rapids, Sturgis, Rapid City and Chamberlain. Next concerts were at Dickinson, N. D., Blair, Neb., and Mt. Pleasant, Ia. Final appearance was at the Illinois State Fair, Springfield.

Trip highlights were a tour and overnight stay at Iowa State University, obtaining a share of stock in the Broken Boot Gold Mining Company, visiting Mt. Rushmore and riding the Terry Peak chair lift.

Musicians Capture Seventh Sweepstakes

Back in Class A competition after one year in Class AA — as a result of the revision of class sizes based on enrollment, OHS instrumental and vocal music students took their seventh sweepstakes title with 240 points, far ahead of Normal with 72.

In the organizational section of the contest, the OHS band won — for the tenth consecutive year — superior ratings from the three contest judges and from the sight-reading judge. For the second straight year the choral groups — mixed choir, girls chorus and boys chorus — received superior ratings.

Three choir soloists, 15 bandsmen and 19 ensembles from band and choir took superior ratings. (Choir superior soloists are pictured on page 37; band soloists, page 29.) Choir superior ensembles were two girls' double ensembles, one mixed single ensemble, one mixed double ensemble, one boys' double ensembles and Madrigals.

Band superior ensembles were mixed woodwind trio, woodwind trio, B-flat clarinet trio, flute quartet, B-flat clarinet quartet, mixed clarinet quartet, saxophone quartet, baritone duet, French horn quartet, cornet quartet, trombone quartet, brass sextet, and drum quintet. The band and choir also won 12 excellent ratings and one good judgment from the critics.

Varying from formal sacred concerts with singers in traditional maroon robes to frolicking skating party and picnic with choir members in everything from shorts to "winter longies", the activities of the OHS choral groups were both work and fun.

Aside from the daily class sessions, activities began with the North Central Music Festival at Streator. Eight seniors — Kris Cechowicz, Jim Hanson, Larry Henrikson, Rita Krug, Pat Lynott, Ann Pearse, Linda Stelling and Carol Totel — took part in the All-State Music Activity District Two at DeKalb Dec. 1. Then Jim and Larry participated in the state-wide festival at Peoria Jan. 25-26.

Choir members sold $1,322.51 worth of subscriptions for the music department magazine drive. Larry Henrikson sold $164.37 to lead the singing salesmen. Cheryl Juergensen sold $65.08. Rita Krug captained the high choir team, selling $381.52.

Three major concerts and several special appearances by the second-hour choir highlighted the vocal musicians' concert engagements, which also included singing at the Waltham drive-in Vespers service. (Concert details, page 38.) Functions of a less serious nature were the Christmas ice skating party, Dec. 27, and the annual June picnic.

STATE Superior soloists — Loyd Chapman (boy's medium voice), Judy Olson (girl's low voice) and Kay Carby (girl's low voice) — join in fun session in choir room.

Group met with Mr. Muus Wednesday after school.

Choirs Present Sacred, Special Concerts

Sacred concerts for Christmas and Easter — plus the Spring concert and a brief program for graduation exercises — highlighted the 1962-63 choral calendar. Theme for the Christmas program, featuring all the OHS choir units, was "Hear the Joyful News This Day". Director B. J. Muus selected "Lo, My Shepherd Is Divine" as the Easter concert theme. The Spring concert was presented Friday, May 31.

Second-hour choir joined with the grade school and the Central School choirs for the city-wide choral festival, Mar. 22. In addition to its own program, the OHS group joined with the others to sing "The

Ash Grove", the spiritual from "That Great Gettin' Up Mornin'," and "America, the Beautiful." The second-hour group also sang at Illinois Wesleyan University, the Northern Illinois University Festival April 27 and at a special May 12 concert in Harmon. (State contest details are given on page 32.)

Drill Units Please Grid, Cage Fans With Precise Steps

OHS drill teams highlighted the football and basketball seasons with appearances at home games in their precision halftime shows.

The Girls Drill Squad, under the supervision of Mr. Robert McKay, marched at three basketball games—Kewanee, Sterling, and the sectional tourney. Sue Kirkman and Roberta Hilliard were drillmasters. The girls combined with the marching band to perform for all home football games.

Directed by Nick Milosevich, the Boys Drill Squad marched at the Dixon and Princeton cage tilts. Bill Loeb and Roger Shearer were drillmasters.

Part of the OHS Cadet Corps, the Drill Squad also marched during the Military Review in May, presenting an exhibition but not vying for drill honors. Made up of students from the various platoons, the squad rehearsed weekly. Volunteering for membership, the students had to pass tryouts.

DRILL SQUAD member Sandy Sheridan directs one of the incoming freshmen and her mother during the annual Open House Mar. 26.

FHA, FFA Projects

WINNERS of club's "crazy hat" contest at the initiation are Marilyn Williams, Nancy Abernathy and Vicki Anderson.

The 1962-63 officers were Nancy Abernathy, historian; Judy Stone, parliamentarian; Phyllis Koetz, chairman of recreation; Dixie Anderson, public relations chairman; Judy Meredith, president; Karen (last year's president); Diane Carrier, first vice-president; Peggy Gjerde, second vice-president; Rita Thomas, secretary; and Sharon Lieske, treasurer.

NEW FUTURE Homemaker of America club members—Gladys Sanders, Cindy Quinn, Daphne Mitchell, Carol Miller, June Gagliardo, Tonja Frye, Kay Fike, Carol Ann Engberg, Sharon Cusick—model their "crazy hat" contest creations.

Steps to Future

Projects of the members of the Ottawa chapters of the Future Homemakers of America and the Future Farmers of America prepared the students for later activities as homemakers and farmers or for other occupations in farm- and home-related areas.

Principal social affair for the FHA girls was the Spring Formal, bringing hours of planning, decorating and, of course, dancing. For the first time, the chapter observed Heart Sister Week, similar to "secret pals".

During FHA Week club members presented the women teachers with red roses — FHA flower. As a year-long project the club gave money and other gifts to the Retarded Children's School. Members participated in the FHA Rally Day in the fall and held their initiation in the spring.

For FFA members pest control became a contest with the winning team receiving free refreshments at a chapter swimming party. The group also held a pigeon hunt and harvested its test plot of corn.

Green Hand initiation, a leadership training school at Waterman, a trip to the International Livestock Show and a joint hog sale with the Seneca chapter marked the FFA fall and winter calendar. In the spring the senior members toured the International-Harvester plant in East Moline and the chapter had its Parent-Son Banquet.

Cadet Officers Direct Activities Of Military Corps

Regimental and battalion officers, company commanders and platoon leaders — these commissioned officers directed the Ottawa High Cadet Corps.

Queen Judy Reigns

In traditional long, white formal with a touch of gold, Judy Pillion walked down the aisle to "Pomp and Circumstance" as the Homecoming Queen for 1963.

"I crown you Queen of the 1962 Homecoming" had meaning for all as Judy received the gold and crimson crown from Cadet Col. Dave Loebach. She carried the traditional red roses.

Gold was the color theme of Queen Judy's court. Flowers for attendants Candy Purcell, Margaret Amadon, Connie Wagner and Sandy Cokley were gold roses in a colonial arrangement.

Queen Judy was named by vote of all OHS students. Each class, in separate balloting, named the four class attendants to join the court of Queen Judy.

Robert Clapper at conclusion of coronation ceremony.

We Plan Floats, Eagerly Build 'em ... Rain Ends All!

Unaware of what the weatherman had in store for Homecoming night, OHS began its festive plans weeks before the big day, as the Civic Council outlined the traditional activities for Oct. 19.

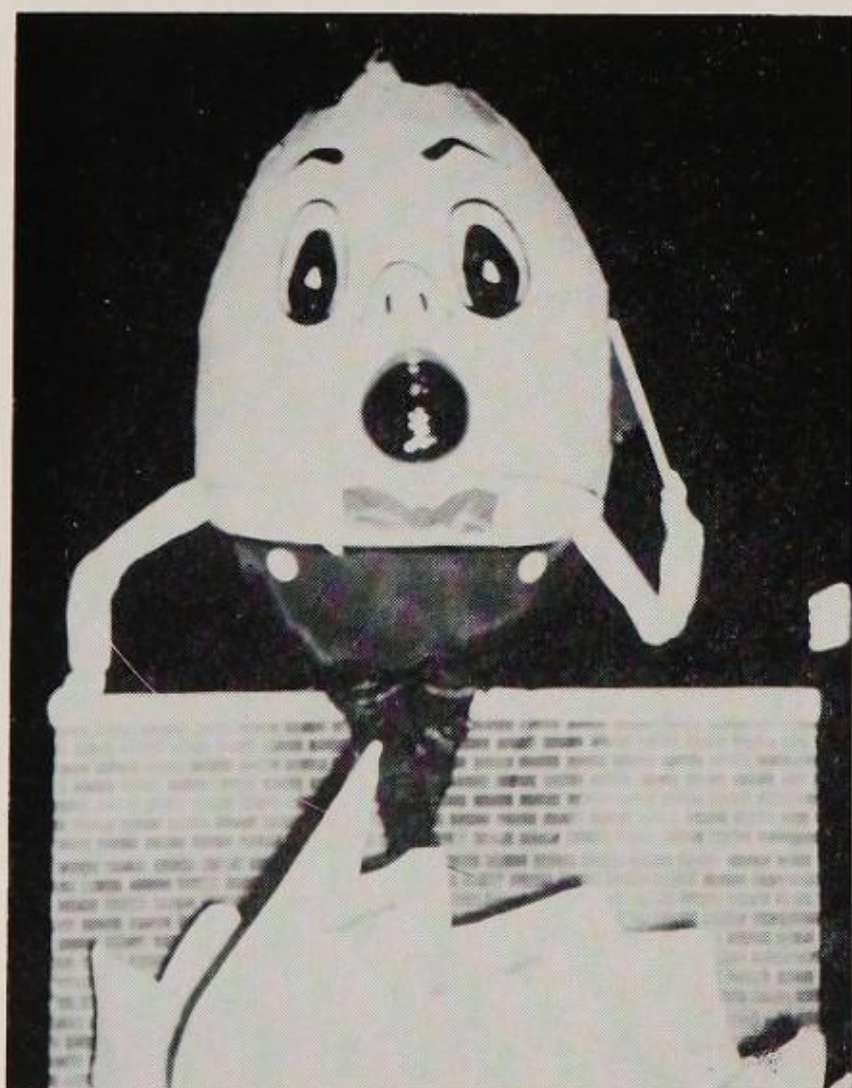

Homecoming festivities opened Thursday night when the cheerleaders and cadet officers led the snake dance from Washington Park to King Field. The varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders then led Pirate fans in victory yells before a crackling bonfire.

Friday morning the seniors featured the Pirate-stones in the pep skit "The Discovery and Development of Football" narrated by Sharon Himes and Pat Lynott. Next came the processional march of the royal court and the crowning of Queen Judy Pillion.

Then came the rain! Undaunted by Mother Nature's dampness, the Pirates battled to a 6-0 victory over Sterling's Warriors. No floats made the traditional halftime encirclement of King Field, but the judges selected the juniors' Humpty Dumpty and "Watch 'Em Fall" the winner. The seniors were second with a spidery float and "Let's Spin A Win". Then, inside, out of the deluge, OHS alumni and students danced in Kingman Gym to conclude the events.

SENIORS Candy Purcell and Judy Pillion busily stuff white napkins into the chickenwire for the Queen's float.

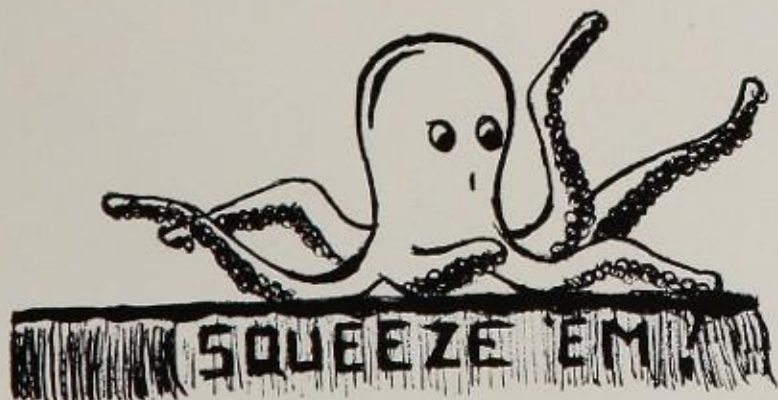

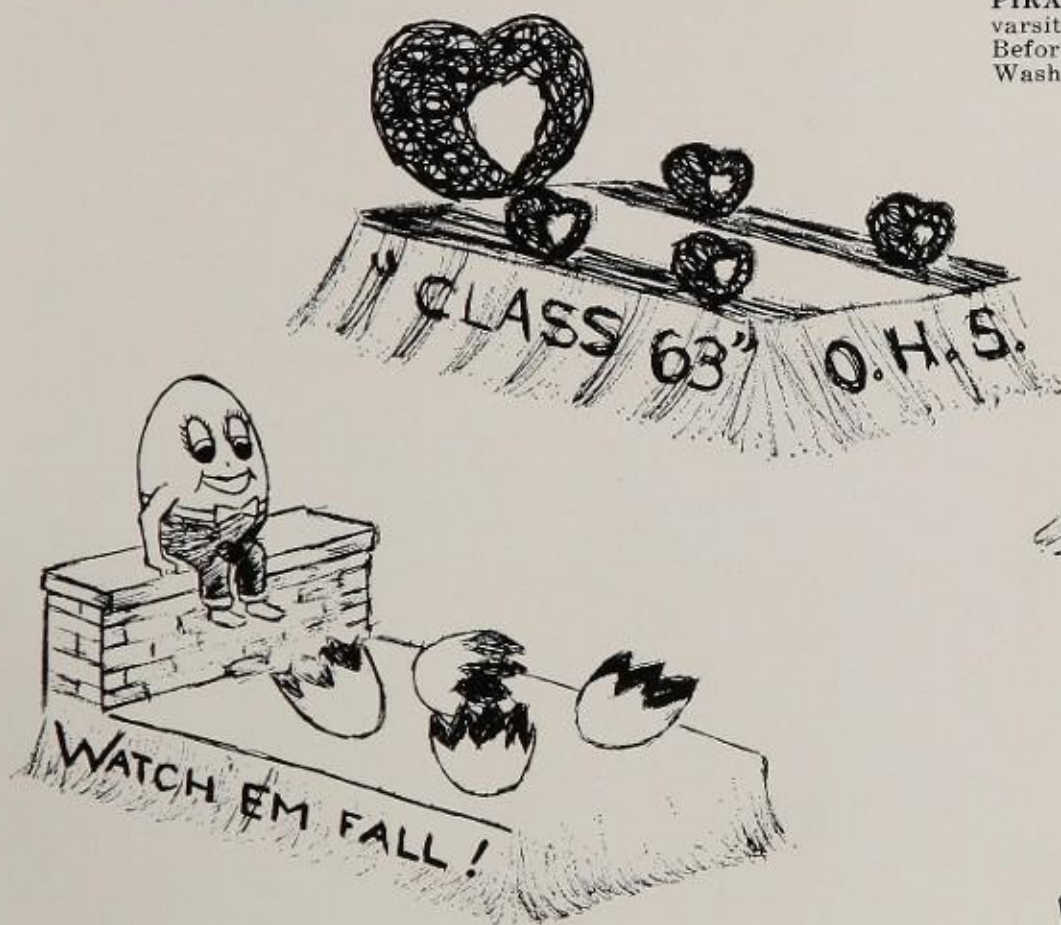

SENIORS Nan Eichelkraut (bottom), Kay Rensch, and Penny Johnson add napkins to the Queen's float for Homecoming.

PIRATE cheers echo across the practice area of King Field as varsity cheerleaders and students join in Homecoming pep rally. Before pep session and bonfire, Pirate boosters paraded from Washington Park downtown to the practice field in the rain.

It's Dance Time ... All Join the Fun— The Music's Fine!

Dance time is fun time — and good fellowship time! From after-game dance to Prom, from spine-testing twist to lilting waltz, from casual exchange dance with newly-met friend to dreamy moment with that "one-and-only", from uncertain freshman to worldly senior — all this and more is our dance time.

TWISTING to the music are couples Ken Clapper and Marsha Stewart, Bill Albertson and Linda Navarro, Charlene Deurell and Ed Dulian, Shirley Gretencord and Kay Sesto. The affair was the annual Latin Club dance held after basketball game.

BAND MEMBERS under the direction of Johnny Kaye play music for the annual Military Ball on Thanksgiving Eve.

"Rhapsody in Blue" — that was the theme of this year's Military Ball, Wednesday, Nov. 21, in Kingman Gym — the first of four formals during the year.

Dancing to the music of Johnny Kaye and his orchestra, nearly 150 couples attended the dance. Leading the Grand March were top-ranking cadet officers and their dates.

To carry out the theme, the Cadet Corps used a color scheme of midnight blue and white, highlighted by silver chandeliers hanging from the ceiling. Along the east wall spotlights emphasized the enlarged decorations of sheet music for "Rhapsody In Blue".

Christmas Ball, Spring Formal Bring Moments To Last Forever

Providing moments to remember were the Christmas dance and the Spring Formal.

Open to all students and alumni, the sophomore-sponsored holiday dance Dec. 15 featured Yuletide decorations. George Nichols' orchestra provided dance music in Kingman Gym, decorated with a huge Christmas tree. Santa Claus called on the dancers.

Selecting a "carousel" theme, the Future Homemakers of America held its Spring Formal April 19. Couples danced under a carousel of blue, red and yellow streamers to the music of Joe DeZutti. Cheryl Seeman and Bob Midnight were the Queen and King.

Balloons, Masks Add Festive Note To 'Madri Gras'

Festive balloons and masks, and decorations in orange, aqua, magenta and yellow widened the eyes of those who were expecting the traditional prom pastels Saturday, May 26, at the 1962 Junior-Senior Prom.

Kingman Gym was transformed into a lively, vibrant Mardi Gras scene by the brilliant colors which alternated to form a false ceiling. A large pinata filled with balloons, confetti and streamers, a life-size dragon and small multi-colored eye masks completed the affect. Music was by Joe DeZutti's orchestra.

GRAND MARCH at Mardi Gras was led by upperclass officers and their dates: Barb Pearson, Blaker Hennessy, junior president; Joy Read, senior treasurer, Kit Blunk; Janice Stevenson, Bill Callahan, senior vice-president; and Martha Christoff, Bill Rowe, president.

Kay Krabel, Pat Davidson Enact Leads

Heading the cast of the all-school play, Moss Hart's "You Can't Take It With You," were Pat Davidson and Kay Krabel. Pat portrayed merry old Grandpa Vanderhof, and Kay played Penny Sycamore, the accidental playwright.

Creating the love interest were Ann Pearse as Alice Sycamore and Bill Granby as Tony Kirby.

Others in the cast with major roles were Louise Perkins, Tony Panko, Steve Miklavcic, Rick Less, Betty Jo Sutton, Larry Mitchell, Rhey Pope and Joel Greenspan.

Contest Players, Speech Unit Gain District Victory

Capturing both the individual events and play trophies in the district contest and thus qualifying nine students and the play "A Young Lady of Property" for sectional competition highlighted the speech season for Ottawa High.

In sectional competition Carol Carroll and Lynda Mills captured third places, Kay Krabel finished fourth, and Kay Rensch took the only fifth place award.

In the North Central tournament, the contest play finished first, while a third place certificate was awarded to OHS' individual events contestants.

Climaxing their second year of competition, the varsity debaters tied for eighth in the sectional tournament. The varsity squad won 60 per cent of its debates, while the sub-varsity debaters won 42.5 per cent. In NCIC competition the debaters finished second in a close elimination round with Sterling duo.

Win Applause

Assemblies causing the most comment from the OHS students and faculty were those of the Telstar exhibition, painting with colored sand and a solo trumpeter-tenor.

Early in the fall, OHS held its cadet assembly, a Latin American Good Will program and the annual Homecoming assembly.

In November the students' power of concentration was tested with "Mind In Action". A travelogue film of Germany was shown later that month.

During the winter season, programs on the "Hall of Modern Science", the American Indian, the poetry of John Witcomb Riley, and movies of "Animals at Night" were presented.

Springtime brought the Senior Day program and honors programs.

Five New Clubs Among Our 52 Varieties

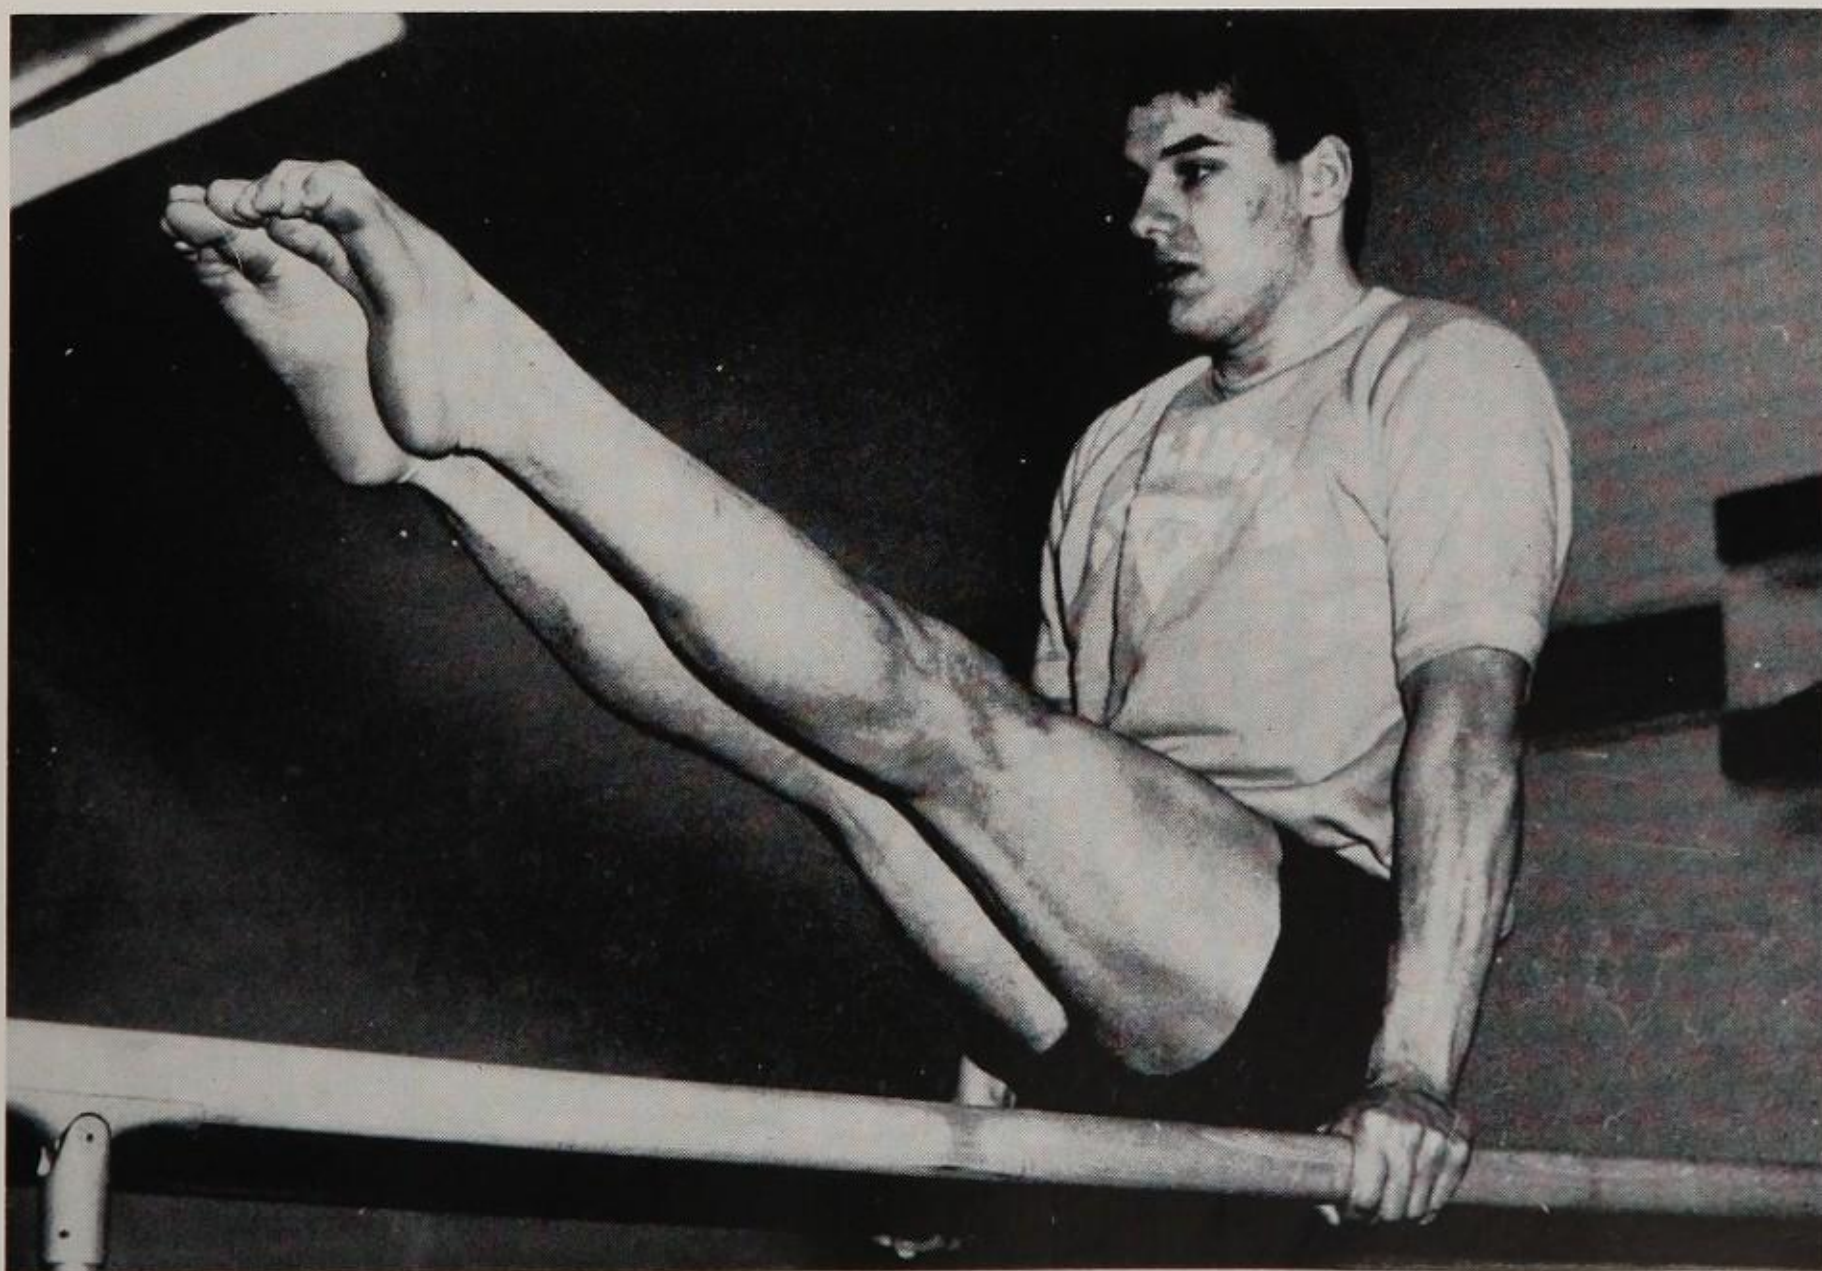

WHICH clubs should I select? During club registration OHS students ponder lists of A and B clubs before making two choices and signing up with council members.

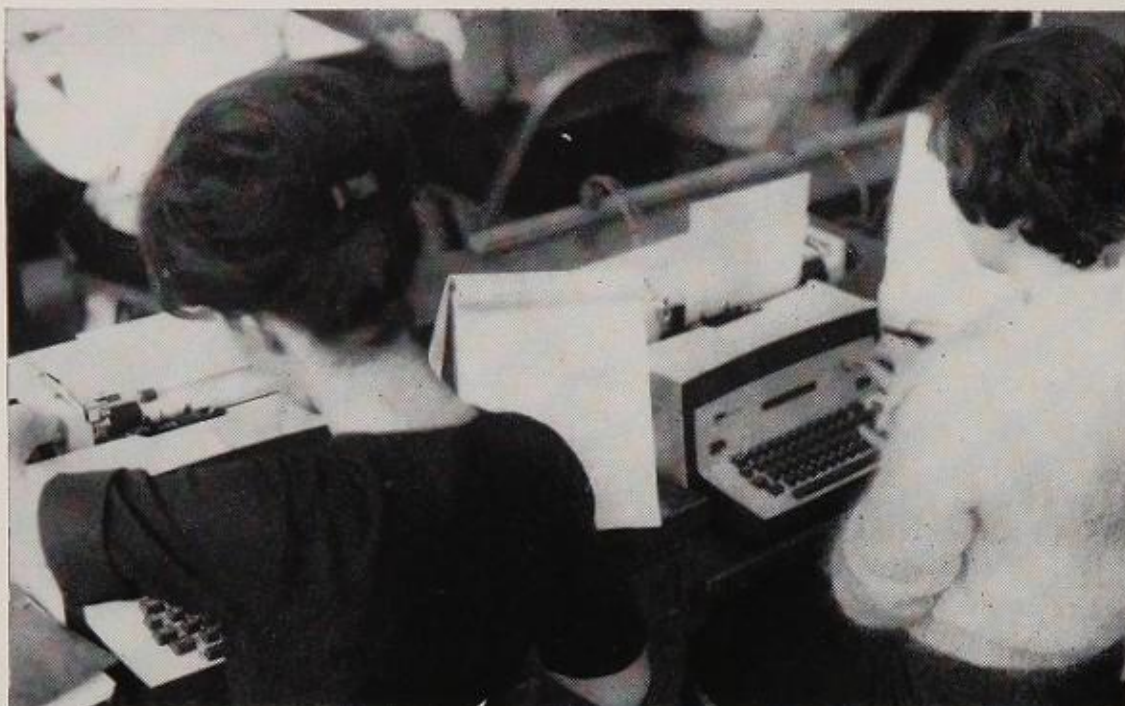

Students selected their A and B clubs from among 52 activities as the Civic Council conducted its annual club registration in the Kingman Gym lobby during September.

Five new clubs were added to the program this year: Music Studying and Listening, sponsored by Mr. B. J. Muus; Fishing, Mr. Robert Anderson; Freshman Debating, Mr. Paul Batty; International Club, Miss Cheryl Gustafson; and Camera Club, Mr. J. O. Herren.

The new music club replaced the Hi-Fi Record Listening Club previously sponsored by Mr. Muus. Mr. Batty had a debating group previously, but the new group was limited to freshmen. International Club is an outgrowth of Miss Gustafson's travels and teaching experiences in Lebanon service schools.

GYMNAST George Bute, member of Mr. Bob Raudonis' Gymnastics Club, does half lever on the parallel bars. Active in YMCA gymnastics activities, the Ottawa High senior won an Iowa "Y" division title and competed in the Illinois meet in April.

The club studied varied areas of decorations.

Club Sizes As Varied As Interests

From small groups of 12 or less to large units of over 50, OHS clubs offered activities as varied as their sizes. From participant sports to historical study of the Civil War, club activities also involved such diverse activities as nursing, woodcraft, dramatics, checkers, painting, bridge and other card games, typing, fishing, debate, foreign language projects, singing, horsemanship, photography and farm work.

BRIDGE CLUB members munch on refreshments while learning to play the intrinsic game of bridge. Seated: Sharon Spence, Jane Love, Jill Peddicord and Kay Kleinmaier. Standing: Gail Rowlee, Bob Heiss, Jonn Dettore, Mr. James Harris, Steve Maggi, Marsha Stewart, Janice Ruff. Students met during A club periods.

LIBRARY CLUB members Joe Preci, Vicki Sawyer, Carol Allen, John Lasswell and Don Richardson prepare new library books for circulation by adding protective covers and checkout slips.

Club Activities Stimulate Worthy Use

BOWLING CLUB member Sandra Geiger takes aim and hopes for a strike—adding a little “body English” to help.

Interests in such sports as swimming, bowling, gymnastics and fishing continue into adulthood. Similarly, early fascinations with physical science and photography develop into life-long avocations or, perhaps, even professions. Each club project may kindle the spark of interest that flames a lifetime. Worthy use of leisure time is sign of educated man.

Club Periods Mean Change To Formulate Future Plans

While some high school students are not yet certain of their life's work, others have made fairly definite decisions about their work. Club periods provide time to further develop and investigate these choices.

College Club gives the seniors time to study academic requirements, entrance procedures and scholarship programs. Future Nurses Club means opportunities for early glimpses of future work. Also, such clubs as Library Club, International Club, Future Homemakers and Future Farmers bring study of what may be a job later. Each is a glimpse ahead.

COUNSELOR at Copley Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Aurora, Miss Dorothy Lindsay, discusses nursing with Future Nurse Club officers Pam Long, Bonnie Bray, Pam Chase, Sharon Farmer.

Corsairs Post 3-6 Mark

Getting their offensive unit to roll after six straight defeats, Coach Bob Johnson's Corsairs compiled a 3-6 mark — winning their last three contests. The final two victories were by lopsided margins: 39-14 over Hall and 20-0 over Marquette.

Fullback Jack Teausant led Corsair scorers with 31 points, tallying five touchdowns and one extra point. Three of Teausant's touchdowns came in the Hall game. Mike Signorella added 27, with four touchdowns and three extra points. Third in scoring was Bob Timm with 23 points, on three touchdowns and five points after touchdowns. Freshman Jay Bernardoni tallied three touchdowns. Pat Lewis and Tony Adams, playing guard, scored one touchdown each. Clark Raber added three points after touchdown.

Jim Wagner Tallies 36 for Vikings (2-4)

Ottawa's Vikings finished the 1962 football season with a 2-4 record. They beat La Salle and Hall but lost to Marquette, Streator, Morris and St. Bede.

Coach Jim Sutherland's Vikings lost a chance to win the Illinois Valley freshman title when they bowed to the visiting St. Bede yearlings, 12-0, on King Field, as St. Bede took the title.

Jim Wagner was the leading scorer, as he crossed the opponents' goal six times for a total of 36 points. Quarterback Al Sondag was second with a total of 19 points for the season. He also completed two touchdown passes for Vikings.

Lead Matmen to 5-5-1 Mark

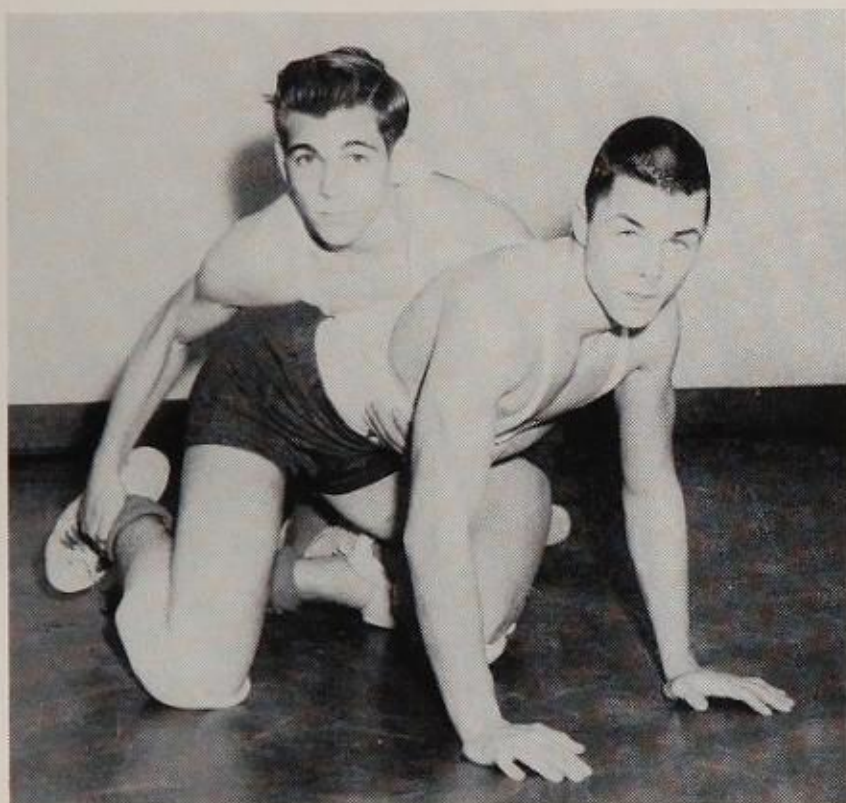

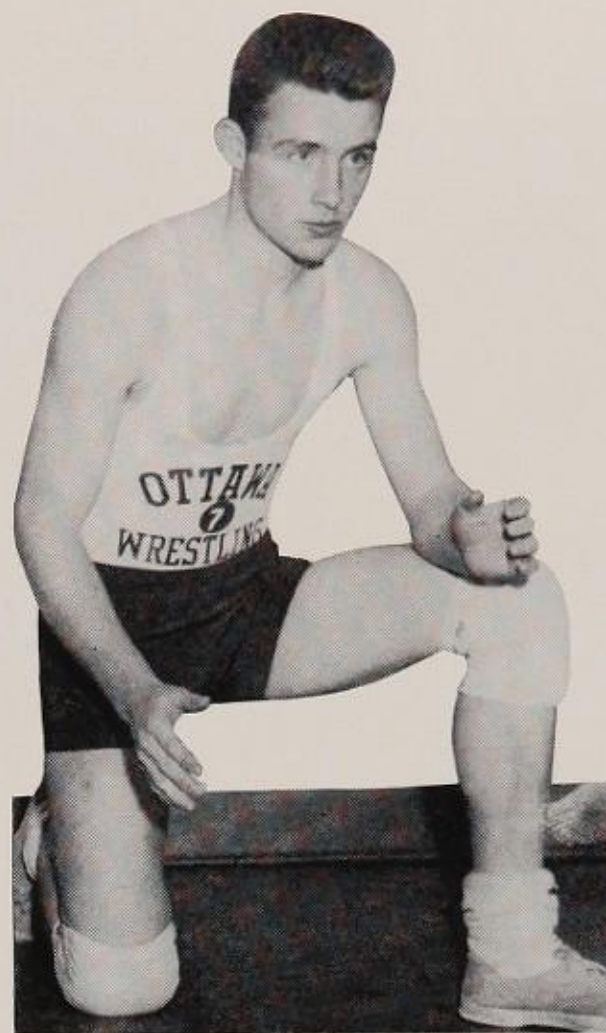

In his first year as head coach, Bob Raudonis led the grapplers to a respectful 5-5-1 dual meet record. With only two lettermen returning, the Pirates captured fifth in the North Central meet, second in the district and fourth in the sectional.

Ottawa also qualified two boys for the state meet, John Price and Don Carroll — marking the first time in six years Ottawa has sent more than one boy to the meet. Freshman Bob Schuett was voted "most improved" wrestler.

Leading the Pirates was honorary team captain Price with 23 wins and 6 losses. Following Price in varsity wins were Greg Knutson, 16-9-1; Carroll, 14-3; Craig Denny, 11-9; Hank Lieske, 10-9; and Ed Thorsen, 10-11.

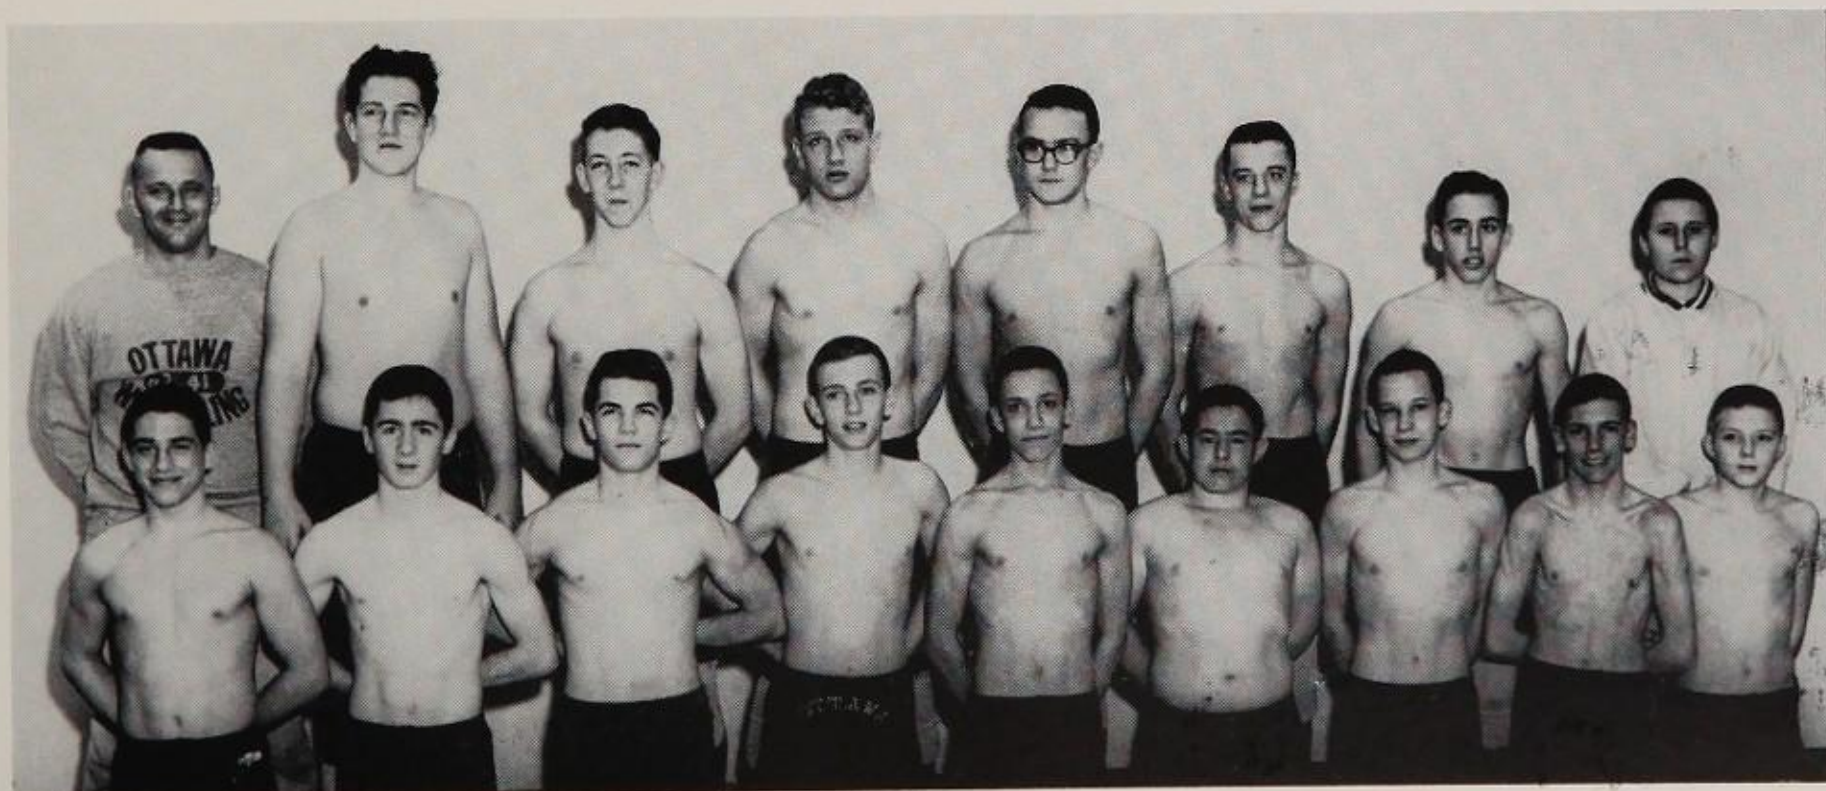

Coach Bud Sand's junior varsity finished the season with a 6-5 record. Leading the Corsairs was Jim Baldoni with a 5-3-1 mark. Following Baldoni were Jim Hill, 4-3, and Glenn Hoenes with 4-0-1.

Netters Continue Quest for State Honors

SENIOR letterman on the varsity tennis squad, Quentin Pletsch warms up prior to court action against DeKalb.

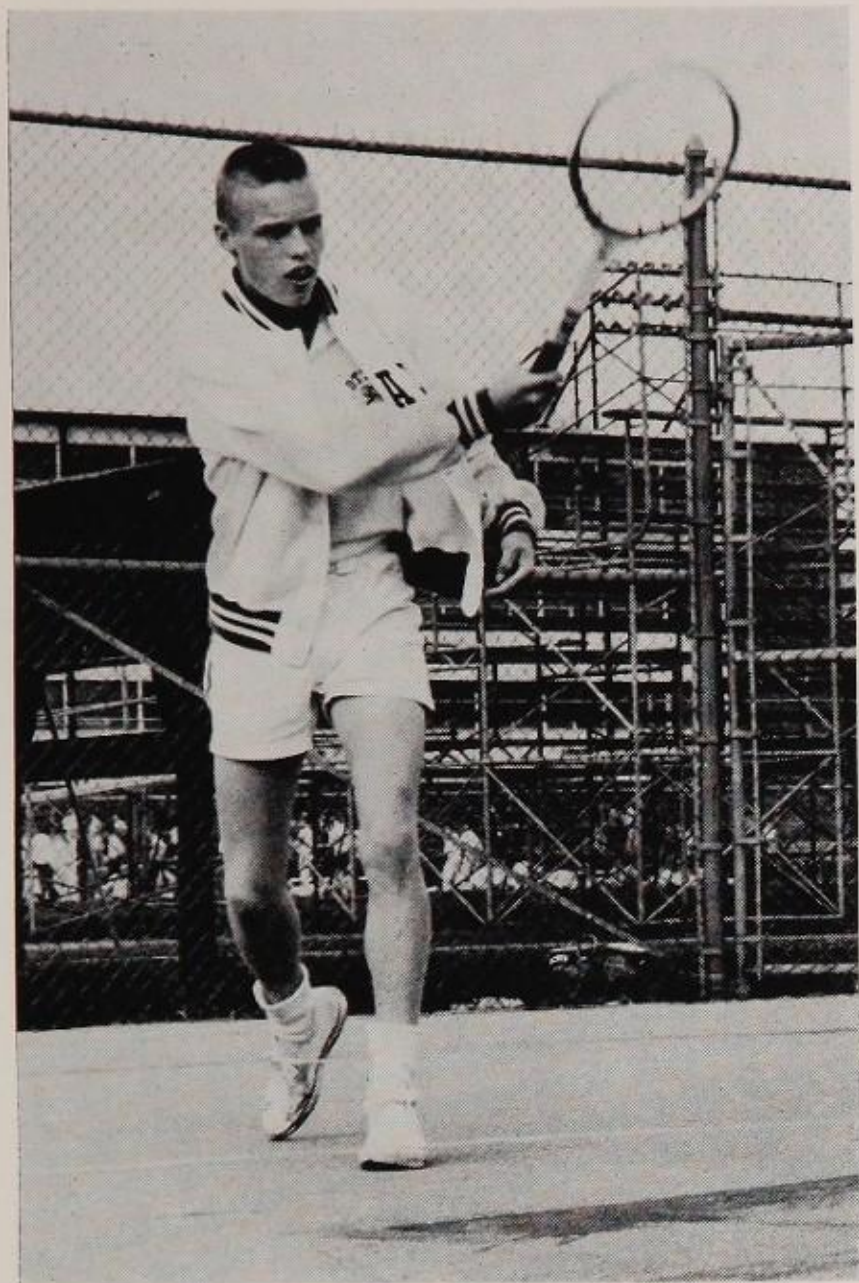

With two doubles teams and one singles player, Ottawa again made a bid for the state championship. The netters captured the Illinois Valley and the district championships. Composed of one senior, two juniors, a sophomore and three freshmen, the squad, through the middle of May, won 13 and dropped 5.

In the district, the doubles competition was all-Ottawa, as the combination of Quentin Pletsch and Mark Shumaker defeated Dean Antrobus and Terry Rosborough for the doubles crown. In singles action, Bill Jansen won the title and advanced to the state finals along with the Ottawa doubles teams of Coach Tom Henderson.

Jansen teamed with Jim Reynolds to win the Illinois Valley doubles title from teammates Rosborough and Antrobus. Ottawa's Shumaker was runner-up to Mike Hayes of Morris for the singles title in I.V. action. Ottawa captured its ninth straight team title with 12 points. Morris had 6 points for second.

In freshman-sophomore competition, Coach Lyle Guenther's Corsairs posted an 8-3-1 record through May 13.

The 1962 net squad posted a season's record of 17-3. Coach Henderson's squad captured the I. V. title, the North Central crown and the district, and scored three points in the state finals. The junior varsity squad also won the 1962 NCIC championship.

Calendar Crowded With GAA Sports

Fall activities of the Girls' Athletic Association included tennis and swimming. The tennis team has lost only one game in nine times during the last three years.

GAA's swimming team placed third this year in the state meet with Sally Claus winning two first places and one second place. Other individual winners were Gayanne DeVry, Cindy Sanders, Barb Grove, Jane Love, Sandy Hornbeck, Nicky Gerding and Pam Tuite. A relay team—Nicky Gerding, Barb Grove, Kay Rensch and Cindy Sanders—also placed.

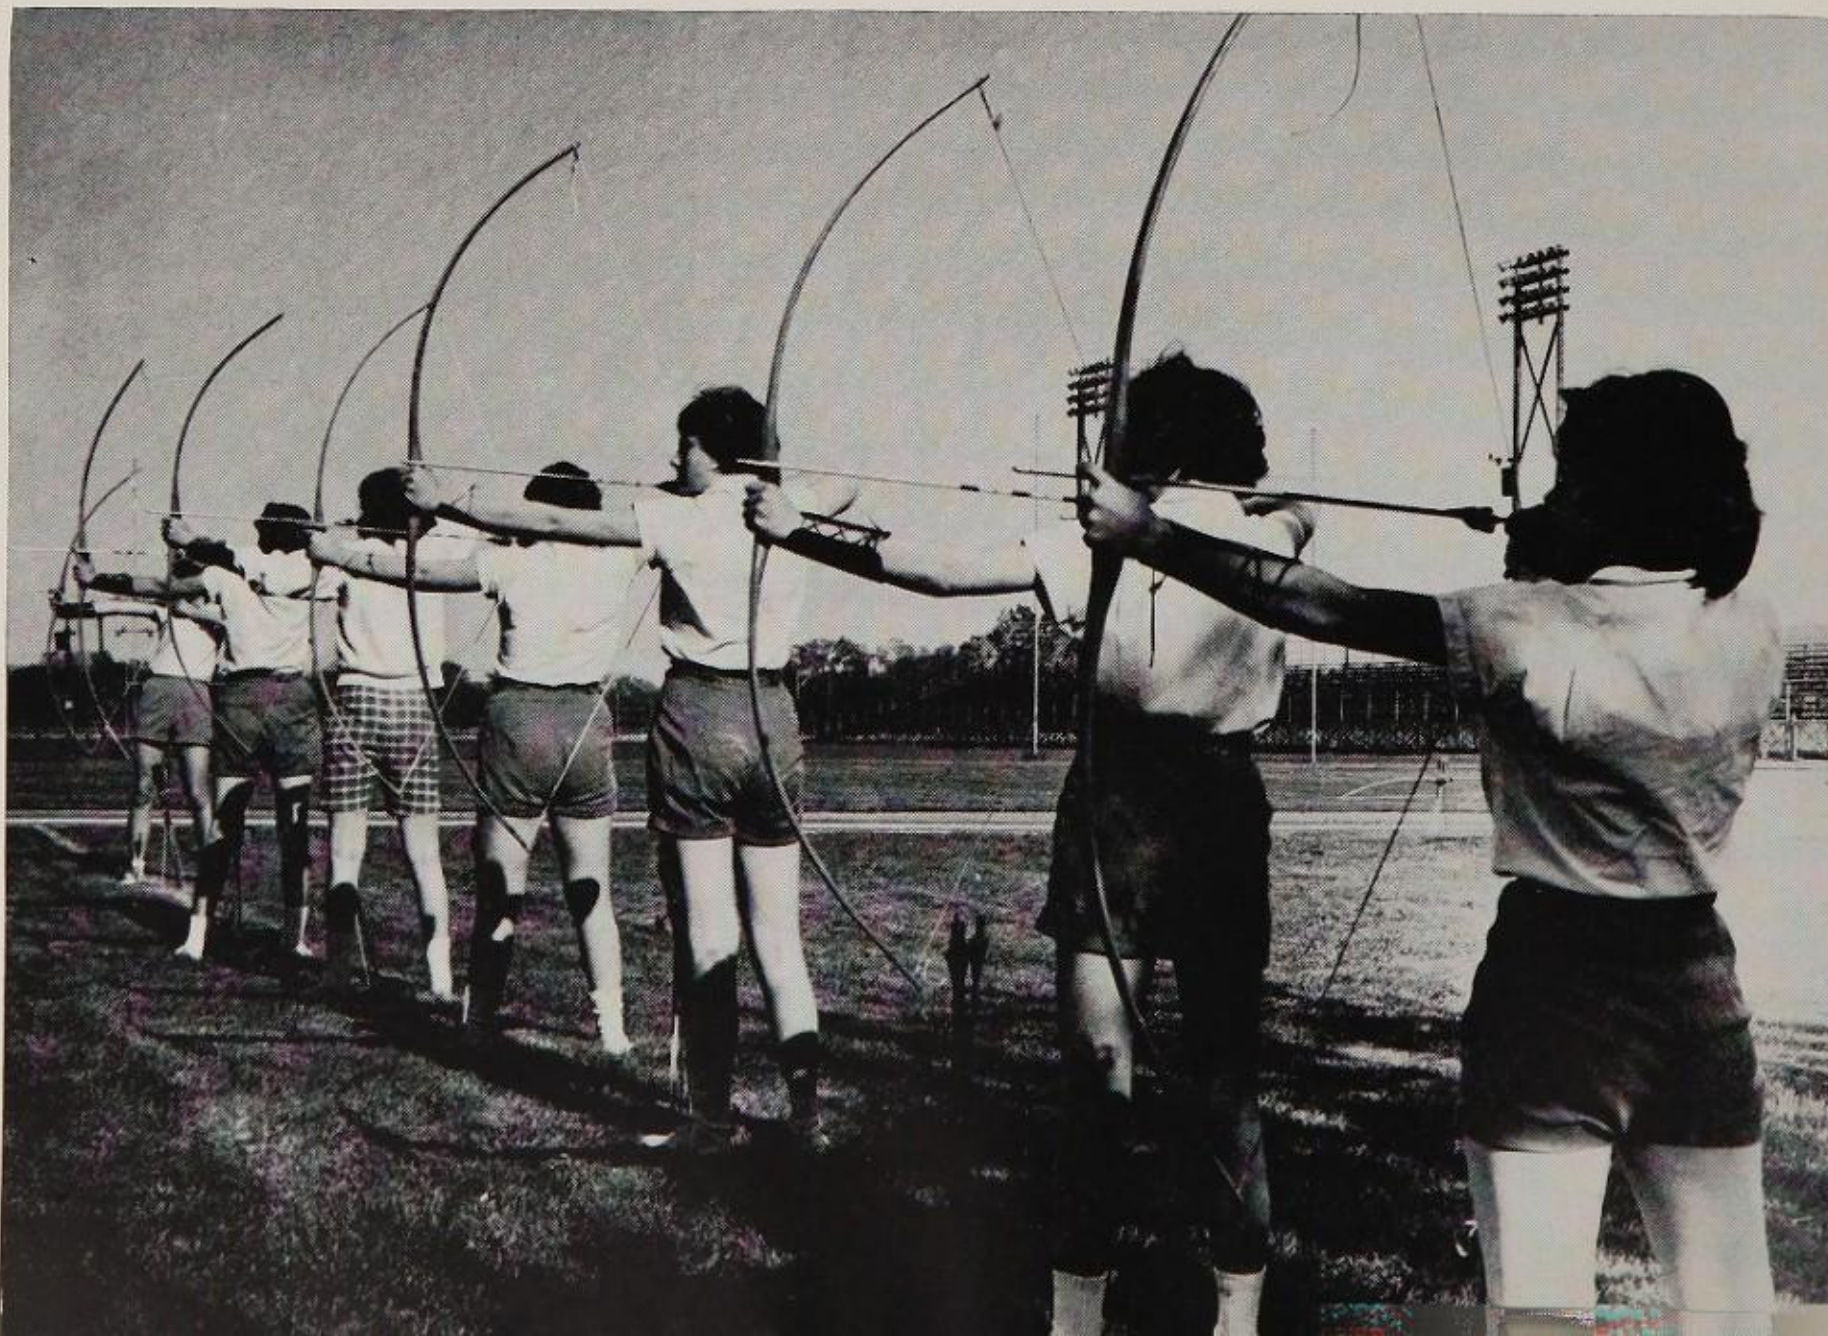

During the winter the girls participated in volleyball, basketball and bowling. GAA entered the state basketball tourney with Sally Claus as high scorer, coming through eight for nine tries. The basketball season was climaxed with a faculty-student game, won by GAA with Darlynn Collins as high scorer with ten points. In bowling Sheila Mann led the scoring with 160. Other high scorers were Judy Kinzer, Linda Watts and Chris Gasser.

Spring sports included archery and softball. Other activities were Play Days at Serena and Woodland, a camping trip to Camp Tuckabatchee, and selling Easter lilies on Lily Day for the Easter Seal drive.

Intramurals — with competition open to all OHS boys — saw platoon AI, Drum Corps and platoon DI dominating the year-long competition with three first places each.

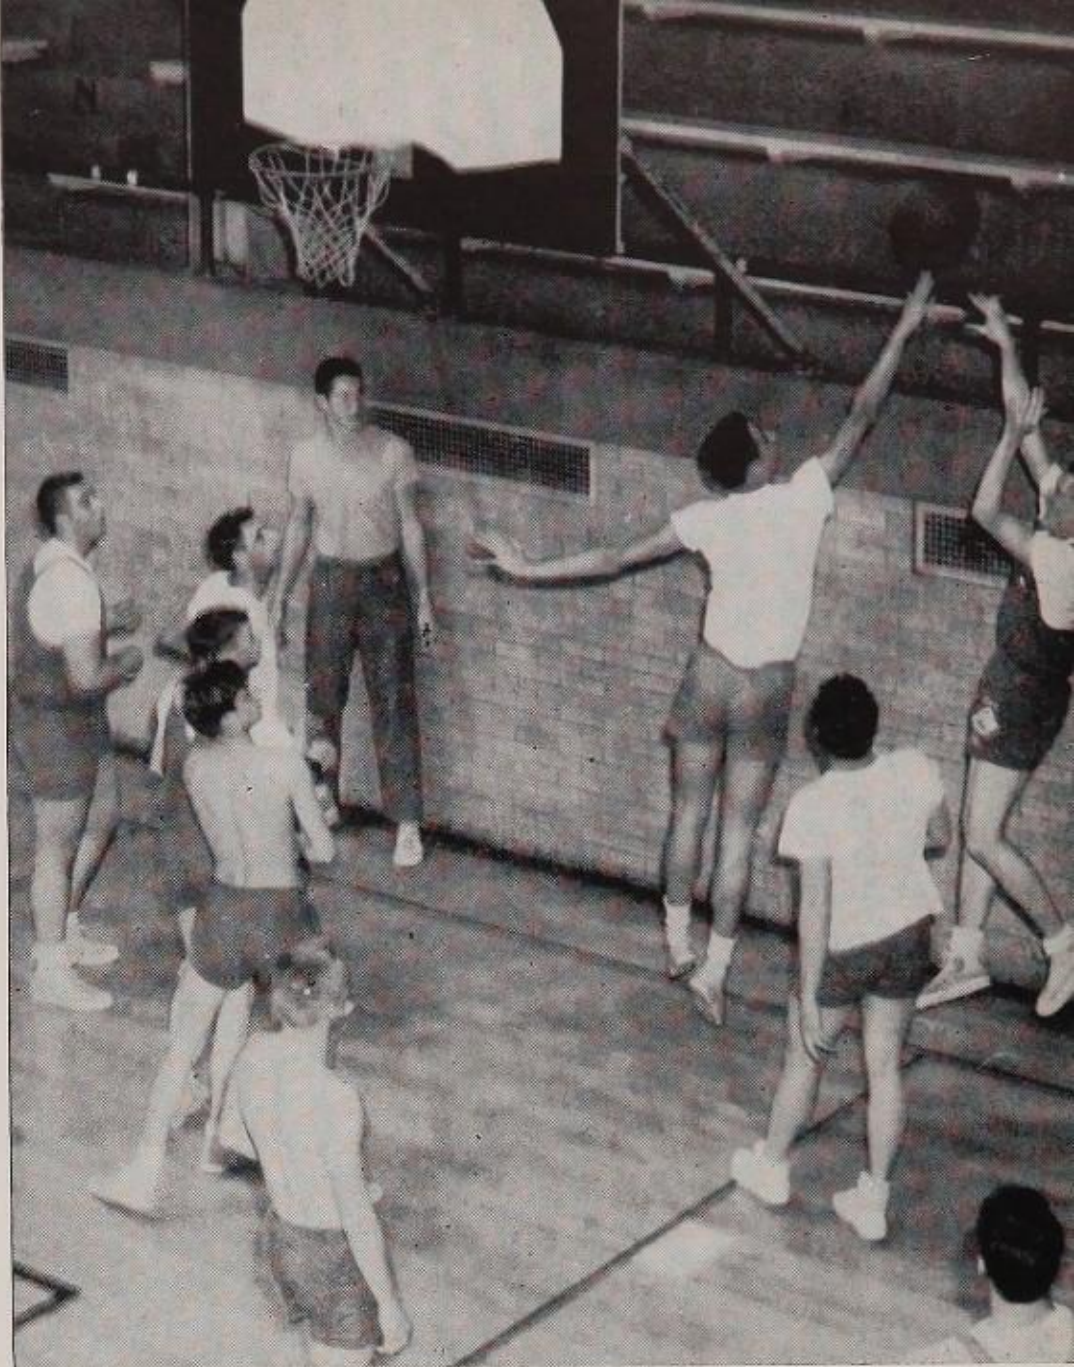

Titles going to AI were free throw competition — new to the program this year, touch football and basketball. Drum Corps captured the tug-of-war, volleyball and tennis (tie with DII) crowns. DI won pushball, softball and wrestling.

AII and BI finished with two first-place titles each. AII excelled in riflery and track, while titles in table tennis and cross country went to BI.

Band, EI, DII and EII had one championship each. First semester scholarship honors went to Band. EI, DII and EII won swimming, tennis (with Drum Corps) and putting, respectively.

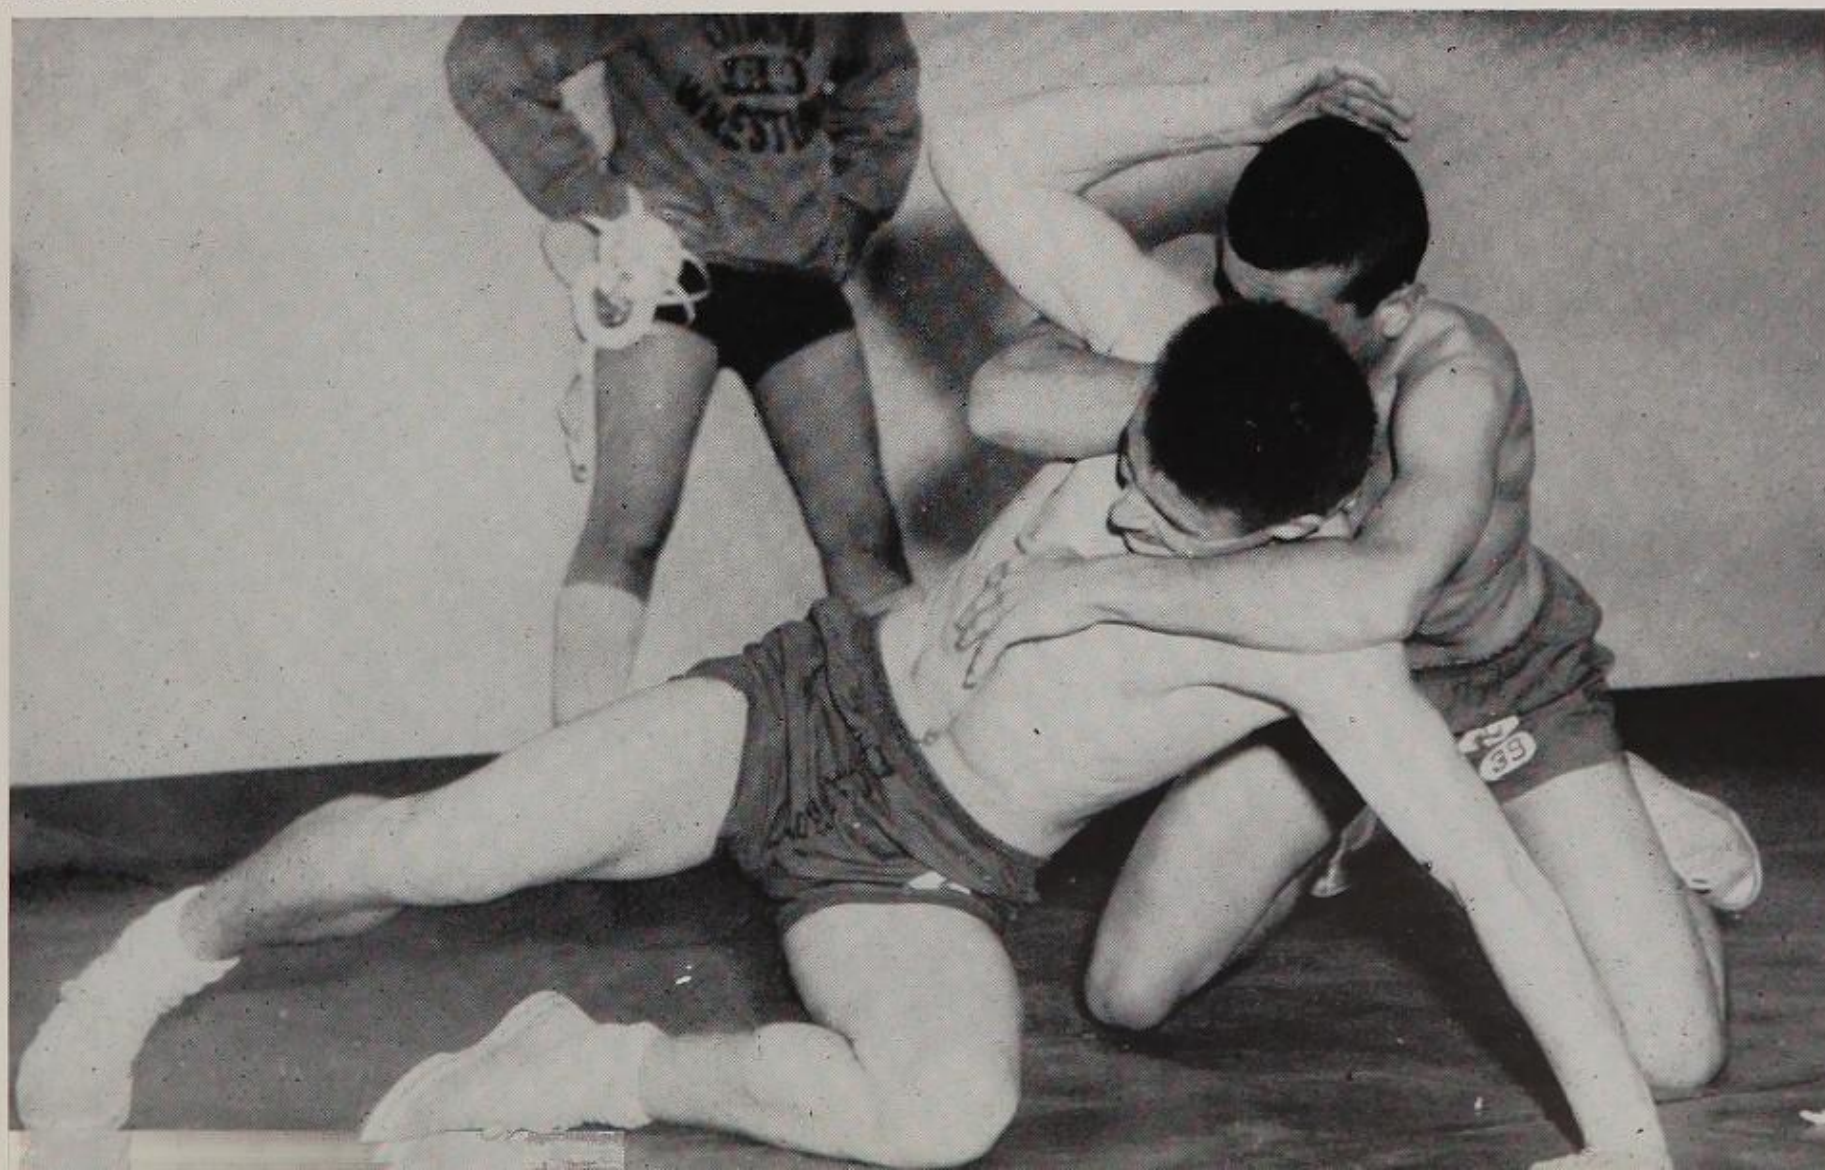

In freshman-sophomore action EII was the big winner with four crowns — in cross country, basketball, tug-of-war and riflery. AII won track and field and swimming championships. Band placed first in table tennis and scholarship (first semester).

Other freshman-sophomore winners were EI in touch football; AI, volleyball; FI, wrestling; CI, tennis; FII, free throw; and BI, golf putting contest.

We Examine the World, All Its Facets

"All the world" may have been a stage to William Shakespeare, but to OHS students it's theirs to investigate, to ponder — and to improve.

In his four years at Ottawa High, each student can develop the skills of his native language; learn another tongue — several, if he so desires; discover the mysteries of mathematical manipulations; fathom the nature of the universe and its inhabitants — man, animal and plant; learn the techniques of mechanical drawing, woodshop and metalshop; examine man's efforts to govern himself—and the results of those social endeavors; master the skills of the home — cooking, sewing and management; learn of farm operations; develop proficiencies in typing, shorthand, book-keeping and other business skills; improve his physical well-being through health and physical education classes; delve into the creative fields of music and the other fine arts; and, yes, learn to drive a car.

PHYSICS students await result of periodic wave length experiment. Senior Joyce McHugh pours water from flask into a ripple tank.

ART STUDENTS Sharon Bensema, Sharon Ringer, Jerry Hannigan and Dan Hemley work diligently on silk screen project in art class.

Staff Members Also Serving In Community

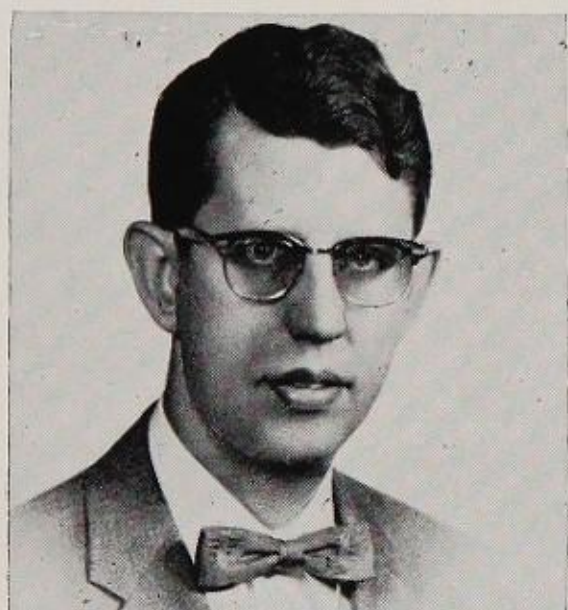

OHS faculty members are active citizens of the community. Many civic, church and social groups have Ottawa High teachers among their leaders and members.

Mr. McKay, who has served on the mayor's traffic safety committee, became a city commissioner in May. Mr. Burke is an officer of the Greater Ottawa group. Mr. Willy served this year as Rotary president. Mr. Johnston was a member of the Building Planning Commission. Mr. Sutherland directed city recreation activities during year.

We Learn and We Garner Varied Honors

As we pursue academic and curricular-related goals, we are recognized for our successes by various honors — class rank, Merit Scholar “letters of commendation”, scholarship grants, citizenship awards, etc.

These honors not only bring personal satisfaction but also are viewed with significance by others — our friends who congratulate us, our parents who proudly hail our successes, our teachers who are gratified by the results of their efforts, the community which vicariously shares the accomplishments of its school, the employer who estimates our potential and the colleges and universities who select us for more learning and more honors.

TOP SENIOR scholastic students for first seven semesters reminisce over past four years as they gaze at the school yearbooks. Holly Ann Neufeld and Nancy Rabenstein, standing, are tied for first place, while the two sitting, Kathy Yednock and George Hess, are in third and fourth places.

HOME ECONOMICS honors went to Becky Pfolsgrof, left, winner of the Betty Crocker Homemaker award, and to Sharon DeBolt, champion in OHS cherry pie baking contest.

ENGLISH scholars Mary Kay Schellberg and Lynda Mills were named nominees for NCTE Achievement awards by English staff.

SENIORS scoring highest on the nation-wide mathematics test here were John Bieritz, Carol Carroll and Wayne Smith.

NATIONAL MERIT 'Letter of Commendation' winners are Becky Pfolsgrof, Linda Martin, Nancy Rabenstein, Ken Yednock and Kay Rensch. The quintet of seniors earned the honors as a result of high scores on the qualifying tests as juniors.

Faculty Learns Of Humanities In Special Class

OHS faculty members studied the humanities in a 16-week course, with a series of 12 films based on great dramatic literature as its core.

Special class sessions included Dean Allen Weller of the University of Illinois discussing "The Image of Man in the Fine Arts" and Dr. Royal McDonald, also of the U. of I., considering the development of music as an expressive art. Mr. Ray Makeever of the OHS staff also lectured on music theory.

Public Views School Work

Open House at OHS for students and incoming freshmen was held Tuesday, Mar. 26, with tours of laboratories and classrooms.

After the visitors registering in the main lobby, the Girls Drill Squad and OHS cadets guided students and their parents through the buildings.

Demonstrations were given in the laboratories and the swimming pool. Projects that students had completed were displayed in rooms.

ADVANCED BIOLOGY student Judithann Franz explains the viscera of her fetal pig and frog to Sharon Trimpe and other guests at the Open House.

WOODSHOP projects are examined by Mickey Worth, Mr. Bill Worth, Mr. Ed Johnston, Mrs. Worth and Penny Worth, who will be a freshman in September.

Extra Duties Vital Portion Of Staff Work

In addition to their classroom duties, 16 teachers are coaches, 58 direct clubs and many sponsor other extra-curricular activities. Some take on special tasks such as that done by Mrs. Audrey Wheeler, who this year tutored two Mexican students in their study of English.

Serving as coaches are Messrs. Henderson, Johnson, Sand, Zimmerman, Adams, R. Anderson, Harris, Guenther, Riley, Sutherland, Nelson, Love, Huber, Gross, Raudonis and Novak. Mr. Krabel and Mr. Johnston assist at sports events. Mr. Fidler and Mr. Fread direct athletic ticket sales.

Directors of other activities include Mr. Burke, radio and recordings (with Mr. Krabel), Mrs. Novak, college adviser; Mr. Zimmerman, Civic Council; Mr. Grever, yearbook (with Mr. Herren) and newspaper; Mr. Batty, debate; Mr. Burns, publicity; Mrs. Rotter, dramatics; Mrs. Andrews, FHA; Mr.

Office Personnel, Cooks and Janitors Keep OHS Running

Through the storm of irregular schedules, occasionally unscheduled bell ringings and unusual weather, the school office staff, the cafeterial workers and the janitors manage to keep the Pirate ship called Ottawa High running smoothly, feed the voyagers well and maintain spotless decks.

Not by the wave of magic wand, but by persistent application of lots of elbow grease do these workers complete the myriad of tasks that are required to keep an educational institution functioning efficiently. This is the task of the five office workers, the seven cooks and the eleven on janitorial staff.

MANUAL ARTS Building janitors are Hal Peterson, Ed Wolfe and Mike Katrein.

NEW CLASSROOM Building janitors are Fred Dammann, Camilo Vittone and Darrell Satterfield.

Henry Avery Heads Freshman Activities

Directed by Henry Avery, class president, the freshmen, as one fund-raising project, split the profits with the juniors from the sale of Pirate jewelry. They also started a coat check at basketball games.

Freshmen were hosts to their parents Oct. 24 for Freshman Night. Earlier in the year the class had picnicked at Buffalo Rock. Freshmen brought in the most clothing for the Civic Council drive — over 600 pounds. Room 901 (Mr. Adrian) was the top contributor. Sandy Cokley joined Queen Judy and the other class attendants in Ottawa's 1963 Homecoming court.

SOPHOMORE OFFICERS—Farley Andrews, vice-president; Jane Love, president; Dean Antrobus, treasurer; and Connie Wagner, secretary—discuss projects with Mr. Vernon Adams, adviser.

Jane Love Tops Sophomore Ballot Tally

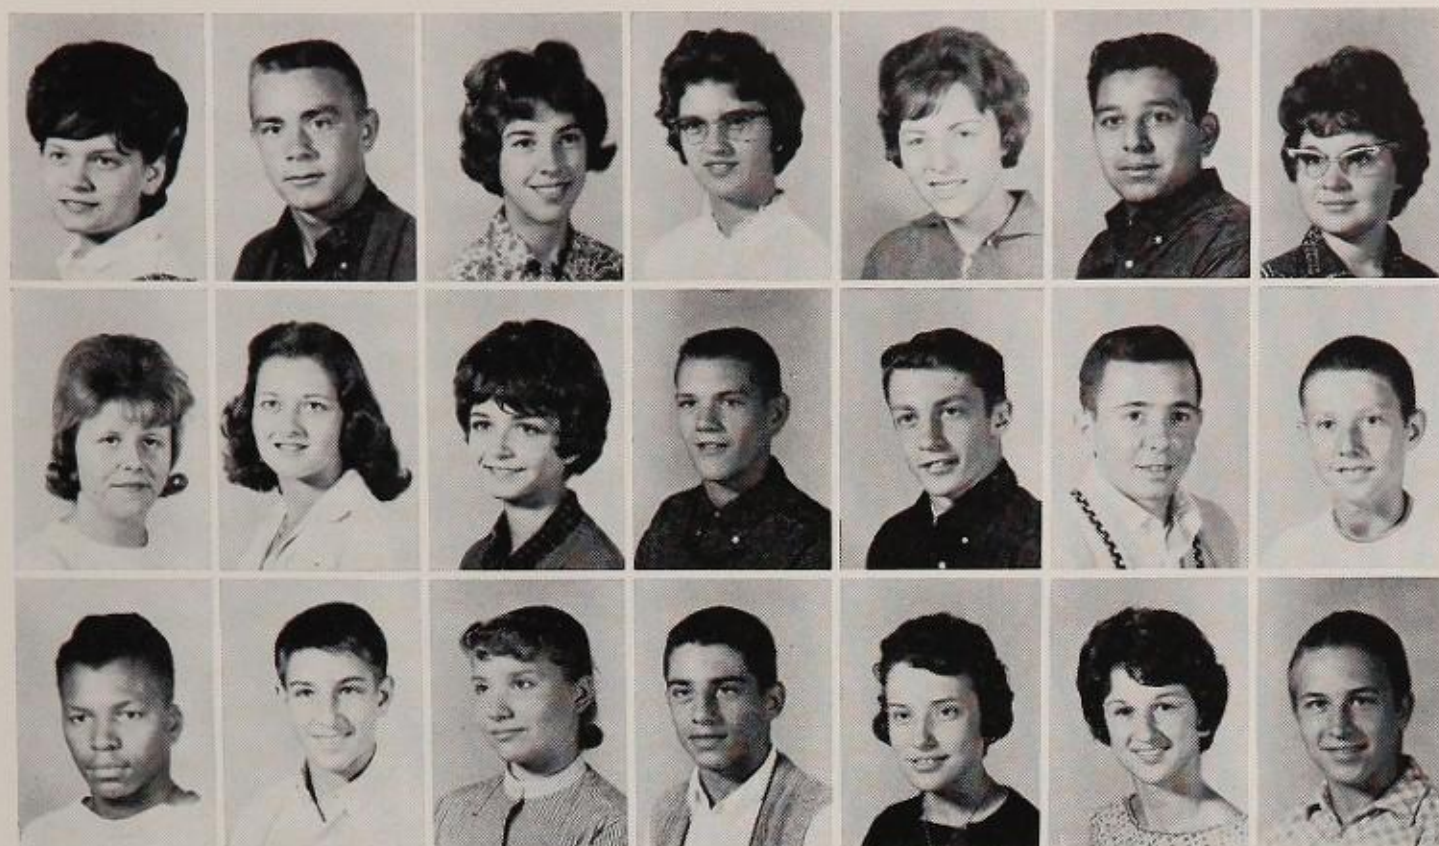

Sophomores named Jane Love to head their class activities. Assisting her were Farley Andrews, vice-president; Connie Wagner, secretary; and Dean Antrobus, treasurer. These officers worked with class sponsor, Mr. Vernon Adams, in planning projects.

Financially, the sophomores did well with Christmas card sales, in addition to the basketball badges — a second-year project for the class. The group also sold shakers. As their major venture the sophomores sponsored the holiday dance open to all OHS students and alumni. The class picnic was May 22.

Class rings were another important activity for sophomores, as they selected a ring design, ordered their rings and, of course, sometimes got involved in the exchange of these rings.

Three Beaus and a Belle Head Juniors

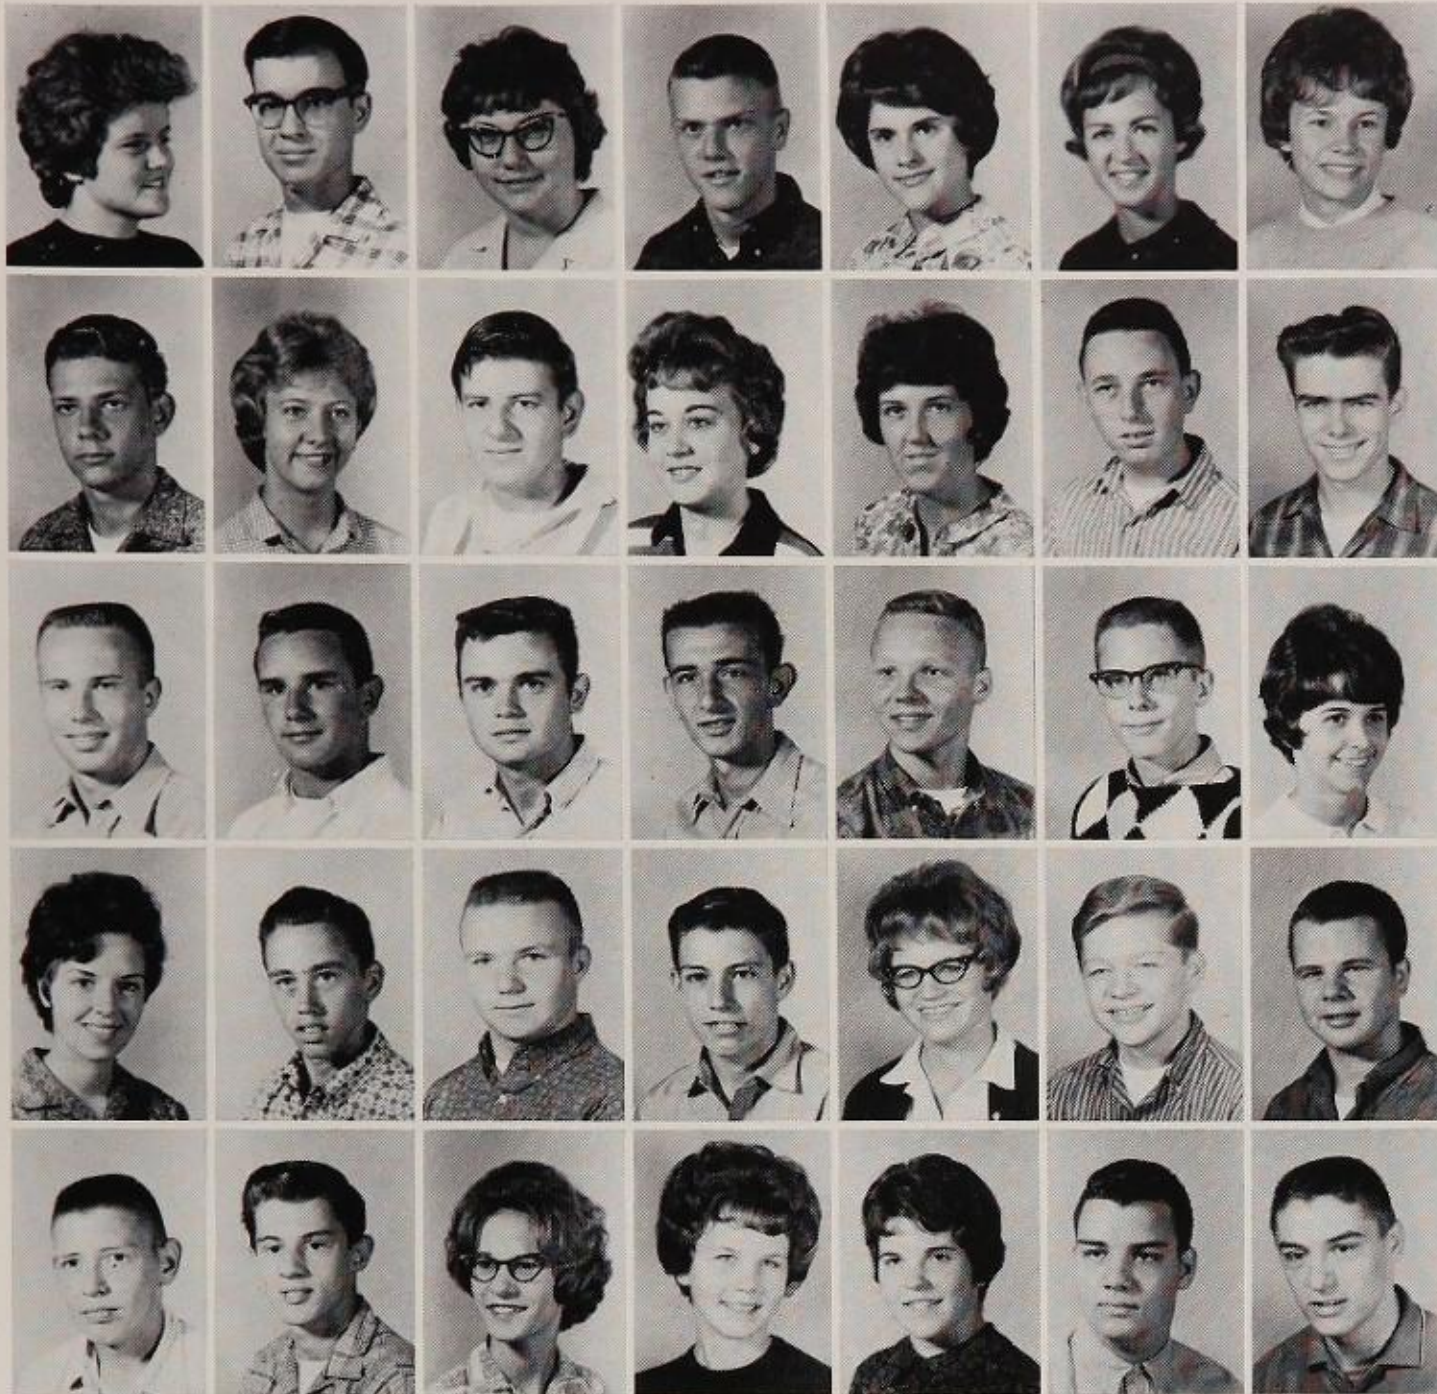

Directing junior activities were a trio of young men and one belle. Ricky Less topped the class ballot for president. Assisting him were Bob Murley, vice-president; Gayanne DeVry, secretary; and Dave Munks, treasurer. Mr. Robert Johnson served as class adviser.

Pirate jewelry, pop and the Junior Carnival served as fund-raising projects for the class. Working with the freshmen, the juniors sold jewelry including gold Pirate head pins with the graduating year attached, gold Pirate heads displaying one green eye, silver or gold Pirate head charms for bracelets and necklaces, and silver cuff links. Prices ranged from $1 to $3.

Juniors became pop venders at all home basketball games, with a different homeroom selling for each game. In March the juniors turned Kingman Gym into a carnival midway for the traditional Junior Carnival. Booths featured skeet-shooting with a cork gun, a dance contest, a Fun House, a cake walk, free throw shooting, a jail, darts and balloons, and a telegram office. Hot dogs and potato chips were also sold.

Major project for the class was the Junior-Senior Prom May 26. Using a Cinderella theme, the juniors used pastel yellows, a clock striking 12, glass slippers and a pumpkin bandstand to create the fairyland ballroom for prom goers.

JACKS anyone? Juniors Steve Maggi, Marilyn Mobley, Dave Munks and Ann Hennessy play jacks at exam dance.

JUNIORS Barry Stortz, Nancy Strow, and Karen Taggart construct egg shell for their "Humpty Dumpty" float.

STUDENTS gather around shooting gallery at the annual Junior Carnival to watch as Larry Mustered attempts to hit target.

Jim, Dave, Judy, Jerry Direct Class

In the fall of 1959, 320 of us entered OHS as freshmen. Thus we began a four-year journey toward graduation. The trip has been a memorable one — some of the experiences never to be forgotten; a few just as well unremembered.

Directing class activities that first year were Penny Johnson, president; Diane Signorella, vice-president; Sharonlynn Baker, secretary; and Kay Rensch, treasurer. Fund-raising projects were Pirate stickers and all-occasion cards. Of course, we picnicked, too, that first year — at Illini Park.

Back the next fall as sophomores we were host at the Freshman Mixer. Directing the sale of stickers, cards and candy were officers Quentin Pletsch, president; Lloyd Gribben, vice-president; Cinda Gregory, secretary; and Solveig Nelson, treasurer.

Carnival, banquet and prom — these were uppermost in our minds our junior year. Class officers were Blaker Hennessy, president; Dave Hermann, vice-president; Holly Ann Neufeld, secretary; and Nancy Poundstone, treasurer.

After an autumn excursion to Buffalo Rock for our picnic, we feasted again later — this time at the Junior Banquet. We also took bows for academic and extra-curricular achievements. In April we turned Kingman Gym into a carnival scene.

May 26 of last year we honored the seniors at the Junior-Senior Prom "Mardi Gras". Orange, blue, red and yellow crepe paper, confetti, balloons and masks converted Kingman Gym into a New Orleans street.

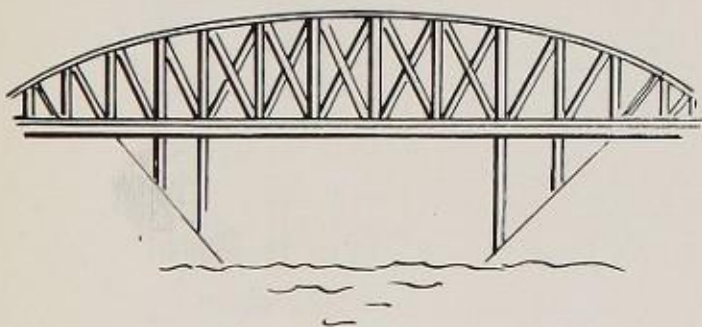

Then we were seniors — top class at last. We named Jim Anderson, Dave Loebach, Judy Pillion and Jerry Makeever to direct class plans. As in the previous three years, Miss Georgine Hess was class adviser.

Rain dampened an otherwise ideal Homecoming. Queen Judy Pillion and senior attendant Candy Purcell headed the Homecoming court. Our float "Let's Spin a Win" placed second. The Homecoming skit featured the Piratestones and the invention of football.

May 8 was our big day! Starting at dawn with the class breakfast we continued till dusk with the picnic. In between we relived our four years at OHS as we presented the traditional senior assembly.

Later in the month the juniors honored us at the "Cinderella" Prom, featuring soft pastel colors, a huge clock striking 12, of course, and a glass slipper bandstand.

June 7 we marched down the center aisle to receive our diplomas. As a final all-class get-together we attended the post-graduation Dawn Dance at the Boat Club downtown.
